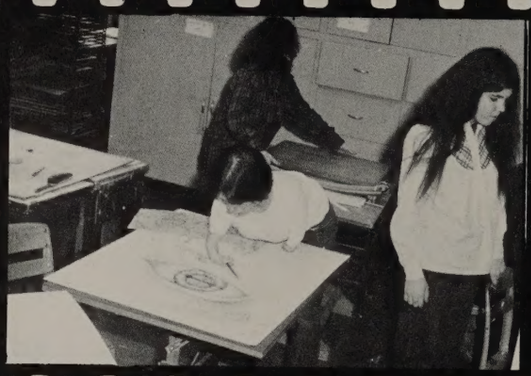
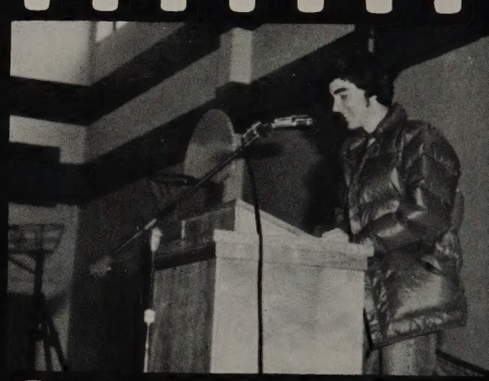
RHS TROTTERS





MEETING THE CHALLENGE

Whether it be in sports, academics or school politics, being the best is always the goal.
And in the quest of this goal
we are constantly overcoming obstacles, forever "Meeting the Challenge."

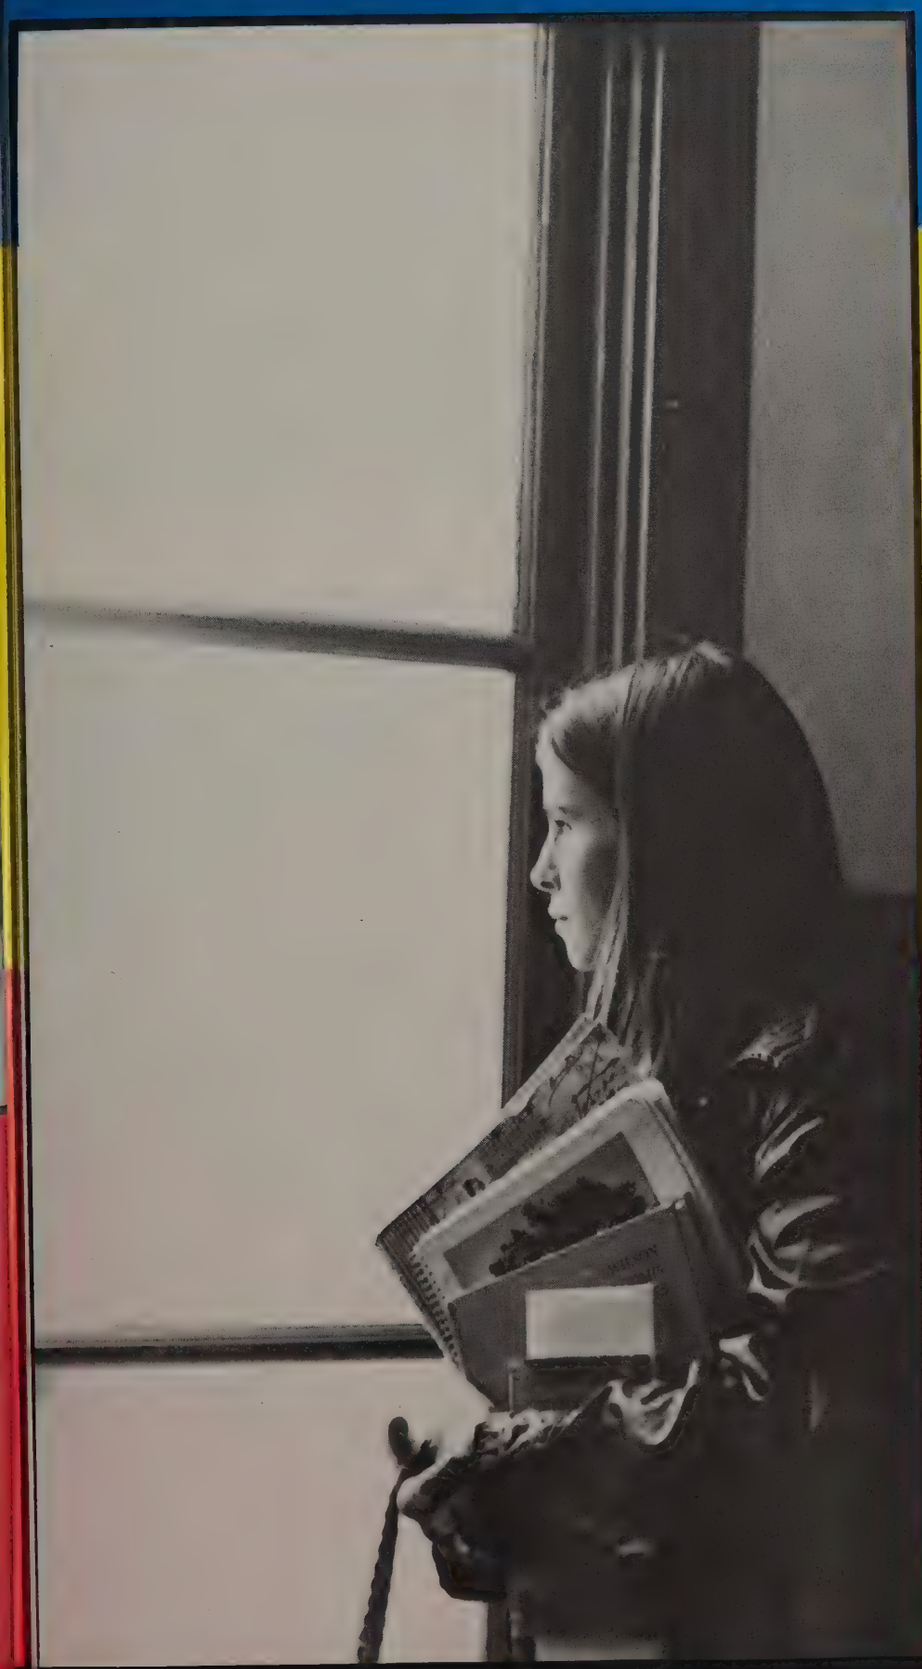
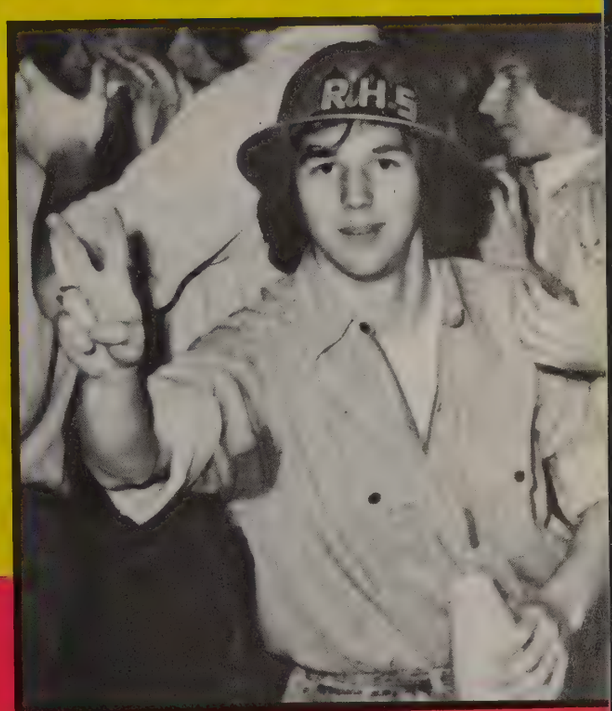
Director of the special reading lab, Mr. Brockway, thoroughly explains to Steven LaRaut the results of his reading comprehension test.

Facial expressions of the student body hardly signify the hard-fought homecoming victory scored by the Indians, the first in five years.

Here at Roseburg we consider our school not just a learning institution, but rather a place where a person can live, not merely exist.

Awaiting her ride home, Leola Links gazes throughtfully into the drab winter sky.





Kevin Babbitt offers feelings of good will on behalf of the Bleacher Bums.

Roseburg Senior High School: Probably the single most important step in preparing us to meet the challenge of life.

Even though the afternoon sun still shines, Bob Matthews' coat and Terry Gatlin's sweat shirt evidence the cold nip in the Autumn air.

Driving a car to school became a real luxury because of the gasoline shortage.

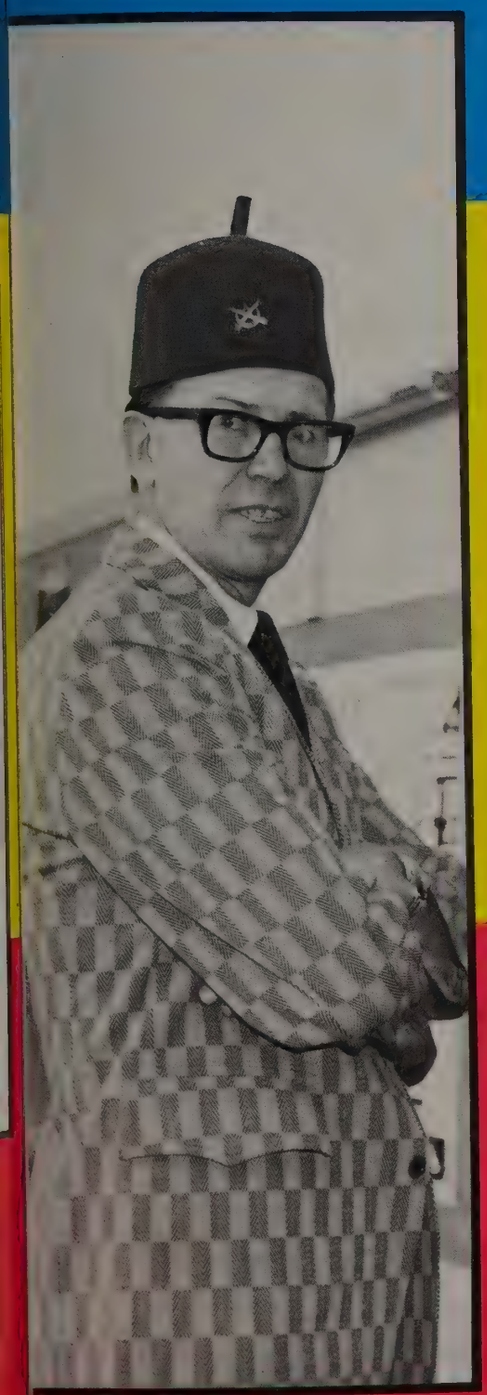
Shelley Walls reads an article torn from a magazine to Susie Sult and Nick Trapalis while Mike Moore and Chuck Livers discuss the perfect fall weather.

At the conclusion of his speech, Senator Bob Packwood answers students' questions.

Breaks in the usual rainy weather allow Leedja Zimmerman, Sandy Morris, and Beth Sykes a chance to eat lunch outside.

The Umpqua —
Today while our memories are fresh, it brings only laughs. However, tomorrow, after time has played its tricks, it will bring contented smiles, maybe even tears.



Distinguished Annual advisor and English teacher, Mr. Bodeen, is caught in one of his lighter moments.

Unaware that his two competitors have left the court, Mr. Sturgill finishes an uncontested first in the banana eating contest during a basketball pep assembly.

CAMPUS JOURNAL

To relieve the tensions brought on by demanding schedules and to ready us for the challenge of everyday life, extra-curricular activities such as dances, assemblies, and plays bring a most welcome change.

Demonstrating outstanding talent and precision, the Roseburgh High marching band prepares for the downtown rally.

Girls' League President Jeannette Myers seems to enjoy giving Bill Michalek his "Mr. Irresistible" award.

In a tense moment, students reflect the excitement of the game.

Homecoming Spirited With Victory

Homecoming Queen Angie Gaines looks radiant as Kevin Grinde and Jack Gorthy escort her around the football field.

"Remember When," a reflection on past years, became the theme for homecoming.

Clubs concentrated their efforts on displays in downtown windows to promote community spirit and to earn a little money. Speech club won the first place award of $25. Girls' League added a little spice to the contest when the leaves fell off the manikin in their portrayal of Adam and Eve, but despite this accidental humor, the club won second place.

Along with the annual noise parade, two features were added to homecoming activities. Classes participated in a decorate-the-school-building contest, which the seniors won with their signs on the Commons. The other new event, the car caravan around downtown Roseburg, brought attention to the game.

Queen Angie Gaines, elected by the student body, was crowned during halftime. Angie and her court of seniors — Kris Young, Lisa Bigley, Kristy Cramer, Cheryl Bell, Debbie Brundige, and Linda Ganzini — reigned at the after-game dance. A local band, Joiwind, provided the music.

Symbolizing Roseburg's team, the flaming R burns brightly.

To promote the theme "Remember When . . .," court members Kristy Cramer and Debbie Brundige enjoy their ride in an antique car.

Vocational Construction Under Way

Three major changes greeted RHS students returning to classes in September. The first and possibly most obvious change was construction under way on the vocational building. This building was expected to be completed and ready for use before September 1974.

The energy crisis brought another change, with lower temperatures in classrooms (sixty-eight degrees), and lighting at athletic activities was used extensively only during the actual events instead of for warm-up and after game purposes.

Completion of parking spaces for students was the final change. Since the activity lot was used by the construction company, students found themselves parking on the Chatham lot across the street from the school.

The less distinguished the class, the larger its enrollment. For example, the sophomore class boasted 543 students; the juniors, 482; and the seniors, 468.

In the noise and enthusiasm department at assemblies, seniors were first, then the juniors and sophomores.

The social activity of registration plays an important part in preparing for school.

Returning to school, students find the hoisting of huge cement walls to be just one of the aspects of building construction.

Taking a moment to relax from his duties in the business office, Business Manager Joe Davenport finds an interesting book.

Rally members Peggy Johnson and Donna Secanti spend evenings painting football spirit signs.

Star Character Of All School Play

William Chumley expounds on the medical terms for hallucination.

After spending three hours rehearsing their parts, Bob Price and John Kline take a moment to relax.

Looking a bit ruffled after her visit to the mental hospital, Veta Simmons tells her problems to the judge and Myrtle Simmons.

'Harvey' Remains Invisible

"Harvey, I'm surprised at you!" exclaims Elwood Dowd when his invisible friend returns from a trip to Charley's Place, a local bar.

Replacement of the traditional visible star by an invisible six-foot rabbit was the most unusual aspect of the first all school play Harvey, by Mary Chase. Conflict arises when Elwood P. Dowd (Chris Onderko) begins to see and talk to the invisible rabbit Harvey, much to the dismay of his eccentric sister Veta Louise Simmons (Carol Ryder) and her daughter Myrtle Mae (Michal Bintliff).

Presented in the Commons, the play utilized a full arena stage with the audience situated around the actors. Lighting was arranged by Drama II and III, and direction was skillfully supervised by Mr. Richard Lanier and student directors Lisa Bigley, Teri Campbell, and Sandy Morris.

After hearing the story of Harvey, Mrs. Chauvenet expresses her disbelief.

Medieval Setting, 'Knights In White

An entrance of white satin and a silver foil castle set the mood for the Christmas Ball "Knights in White Satin."

Sponsored by Girls' League, the dance required hours of preparation. Table decorations — the castle and lighted Christmas trees — were arranged by chairmen Kelly Cowbrough, Virginia Grosso, Carol Wilson and Girls' League members. Panama Rea, a Beaverton group provided music for the 130 couples.

Election of the court was changed slightly this year. Instead of the whole student body voting for the girls in class, only the couples at the dance could vote. The court chosen included Queen Donna Secanti, Senior Princess Debbie Thompson, Junior Princess Michelle Coen, and Sophomore Princess Amy Monteith.

Straining to hear above the music, Lisa Bigley concentrates on Jim Badden's story.

Satin' Highlights Christmas Ball

"This isn't as easy as it looks!" thinks Mark Mizell as he pins a corsage on the very lovely Cheryl Bell.

Dance chairman Kelly Cowbrough and Rob Simpson laugh at a chaperone's antics.

Winter Brings Comets, Crises,

Expected to be ten times larger than famed Halley's comet, comet Kohoutek received much attention from student scientists and amateur astronomers. Its high visibility days were January 5-15, but even then it was impossible to see it without the aid of a telescope. For those who missed the comet in 1974, its return was assured in 75,000 years.

Nationally, the gas crisis affected many students when long lines of cars and early closing of stations made it impossible to get gas after school. Governor Tom McCall instigated a voluntary gas rationing system where cars were given gas only if tanks were less than half full and license numbers corresponded with days. This system temporarily shortened long lines of cars, and many students could get gas after school.

Roseburg faced myriad troubles during winter months. Schools closed January 16 when 5.86 inches of rain swelled rivers to the height topped by only the 1964 flood. The flood caused approximately one million dollars damage to land and agriculture, and the Governor declared Oregon a disaster area.

Along with facing a disaster, Roseburg residents learned to face tragedy. Seven Pacific NW Bell telephone and two Sage Pipeline employees were killed in a mudslide near Roseburg. Friends and family, many of them Roseburg High students, honored the men in a memorial service held at Umpqua Community College.

Senator Bob Packwood was guest speaker at the year's first all-school assembly. He outlined the qualities of achievement, integrity, tolerance, personal discipline, imagination and inborn zeal as the qualities of a leader. During the question-answer period, Packwood was asked, "Do you think students should have to go to school in the dark?" His reply was, "Well, just as long as they don't have to get taught in the dark."

January Girl of the Month Barb Ford receives a corsage from her mother.

"No Trespassing" seems an unnecessary posting as water gushes over the Winchester Dam sidewalk.

Closures

Because of gas shortage, waiting in lines seems inevitable for students who must purchase gas after school.

Entering the dance, Teresa Davidson casts her vote for queen.

Finding Steve Myrin's attempts at fastening her necklace amusing, Karen Novick decides to do it herself.

Dancers — Top: Mike Kobelin and Sue Gratkowski. Middle: Mr. and Mrs. Powell. Bottom: Jeff Amann and Lori Dyck.

Sweetheart Ball Receives 'Tribute'

Between dances, Kevin Grinde and Judy Wilkison find time to relax.

Helium balloons and crepe paper hearts complemented the Sweetheart Ball theme "Color My World." Eighty-one couples danced to the music of "Tribute," a Salem band. National Honor Society presented an idea to change the voting of queen to make any girl eligible (previously it had been only seniors). This idea bowed under tradition, and voting remained as in years past. Girls elected were Queen Lori Dyck, Senior Princess Sue Gratkowski, Junior Princess Karen Novick, and Sophomore Princess Dana Campbell.

Court — Steve Myrin, Karen Novick, J. Amann, Queen Lori Dyck, Sue Gratkowski, Mike Kobelin, Dana Campbell, and Tom Johnson.

Diabolical Fagin's Band

*M*usic again filled the RHS auditorium when drama and vocal music departments combined to present Lionel Bart's "Oliver," based on the book Oliver Twist.

The play begins when Oliver asks for a second helping of gruel and is consequently thrown out of the workhouse. He soon finds his way into a group of pickpockets, and the 70-member choir welcomes him with "Consider Yourself."

Choreographers Kay Doering and Donell Hoard organized dance routines performed by the workhouse boys. The music was provided by Shelley Walls and Barbara Ford. Reserved tickets were sold out.

Dancers — Leasa Nistler, Teri Campbell, Lori Dyck, and Lori Lawson.

In a jovial moment, Kay Doering and Teri Campbell dance for pickpocket friends.

Miserly Steve Lethlean inspects the work of his pickpocket gang.

Of Pickpockets Steal Show

Workhouse boys rejoice because of an extra basket of food.

Wooing his sweetheart, Clark Campbell kisses a defiant Sue Palmer.

Expressing loneliness, Aleta Harcourt sings "Where Is Love?"

Entertaining at many school functions, members of Swing Choir prepare to sing "Where Is Love."

Convention chairman Beth Sykes and state advisor Mrs. Fread view scrapbook awards.

Rosie Beamer shows her spirit at JV rally tryouts, held each spring.

RHS Hosts State Convention

After an assembly, Bruce Glover met some attractive members of the choir.

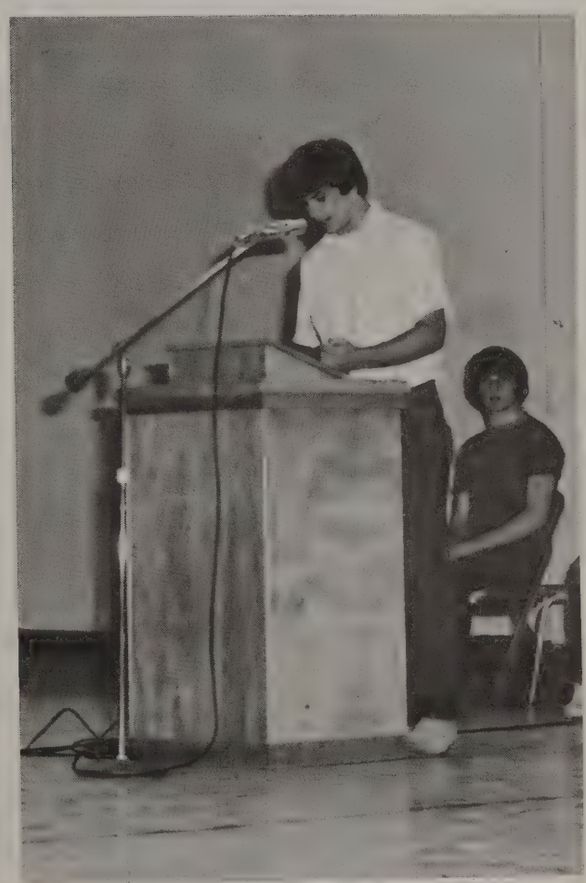
Coming of spring brought not only warm weather, but a state convention, ASB elections, and an all-school assembly to Roseburg high school.

Senior Angela Gaines was elected to this year's Girls' League state presidency and presided over the state convention held in the Roseburg gym. Represented by twenty schools, Roseburg received two second place awards and a first place award in the scrapbook contest. Highlights of the entertainment were a karate demonstration and two soloists singing the theme song, "I Am Woman."

Voting for ASB officers once again resulted in a run-off for president. With a majority of votes, Jack Anderson was elected ASB president.

Crescent Valley high school choir was the final all-school assembly. In December, Roseburg's choir performed at Corvallis.

Utilizing their voting privilege, Lorelei Hilgart and Patty Iwata make their choice.



During candidate speeches, Dean Jones addresses the student body.

Girls Get Their Chance

Following a Sadie Hawkins' Day theme, the Twirp Dance is the only school event where it is not unusual for the girls to choose their date. Price of admission paid by the girls varied with the boys' chest size. The larger the measurement the more money the girls paid to enter the dance.

Boys nominated for court were voted on at the dance. Court members selected were King Bill Burns, Prince Steve Cotnam, Prince Mike McKay, and Prince Dave Lennington. The "Best Dressed" awards were presented to Tammy Thomasson and Chris Onderko.

Marrying Sam, a popular feature, charged 25¢ for a marriage license and ring. The Chapman Colehagen Band, a newly formed local group, provided the music.

"Am I that small?" Phil Bononcini questions while Michelle Coen measures.

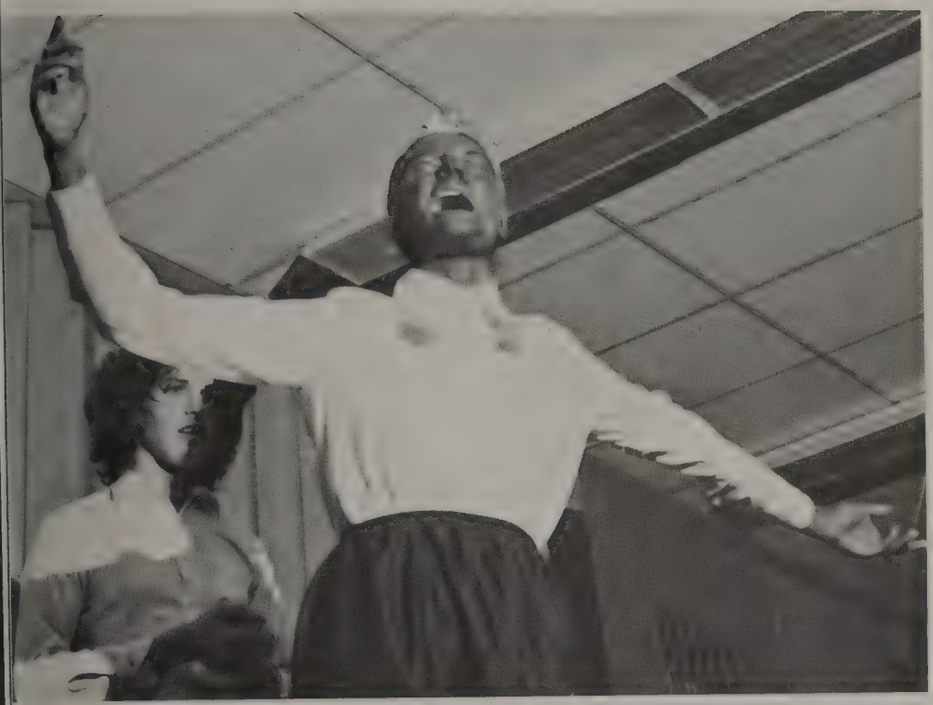
Keith Wright and Jonni Rice display examples of Twirp attire.

One big happy family: Teresa Davidson, Bill Wilson, Jody Young, Mike Pommerane, Dave Lenington, Terri Amann, Dana Campbell and Larry Chambers.

Enjoying the informal Twirp atmosphere, Prince Mike McKay talks to faceless John Reagan. Kay Jansen and Terri Rice are preoccupied while Ed Grosso rebuffs a comment from Jonni Rice.

Finding it hard to penetrate Tami Sanders' indifference, Bruce Kenny threatens to admit his sins in court.

Drama Presents 'The Crucible'



With a cry of repentance, Karen Cole laments her evil state.

Tense emotional drama was the motivating force behind the second all school play, "The Crucible." Dealing with Salem witch trials, minimum scenery was used, and emphasis was placed on lighting skills. Drama classes took charge of production, and student directors were Kay Thomas, Gail Oberst, and Karen Arnold. Mr. Richard Lanier, drama teacher, was the head director.

Retiring Court: Judy Loosley, Adelle Wooton, Nanette Sassar, Queen Peggy Johnson, Penny Davis, Pam Hein, Donna Secanti, Sue Rifenbark and escorts Dan Siegel, Dar Yarbrough, Rick Beamer, Mark Buehler, Greg DeWater, Bill Gregory, Pat Foutz and Tod Wingfield.

Prom Court: Kelly Bauer, Jean Matthews, Mary Deluca, Sue Berggreen, Queen Margie Conkey, Cindy Keller, Dawn Sarver, Karen Coen and escorts Butch Nemec, Dave Driver, Pat Hudson, Kelly Davidson, Mark Heup, Rob Simpson, Ron Langrell and Dean Jones.

"San Francisco Dreaming"

Entering the dance, Sandy Orr and Scott Woods greet chaperone Sharon Hall.

Sponsored by the Junior class, the juniors chose "San Francisco Dreaming" as the theme for the Junior-Senior prom. Decorations included Oakland Bay bridge and a painted trolley car. "Musti Brothers," a Portland group, provided the music.

Juniors voted in class for court members and the girls elected were Queen Margie Conkey and Princesses Mary Deluca, Dawn Sarver, Jean Matthews, Cindy Keller, Sue Berggreen, Karen Coen, and Kelly Bauer.

Prom chairman Karen Novick announces the court members.

"You can't take this picture. My mom thinks I'm at the bowling alley," exclaims Mark Heup while he dances with Margie Conkey.

Learn From Yesterday, Live

Triumphant with their awards, Pam Hein and Bob Dirksen acknowledge applause.

Jan Webster and Bruce Carne accept the "Cutest Couple" award.

"Biggest Flirt" award was amusing for Adelle Wooten and Rob Simpson.

For Today, Hope For Tomorrow

In honor of the graduating seniors, a banquet was held at the Roseburg fairgrounds. Centered around the theme of the class "Learn from Yesterday, Live for Today, Hope for Tomorrow," the main event was the awarding of "Best and Most" awards voted on by all of the seniors.

Master of Ceremonies Ed Burton told jokes, and slides of seniors were shown. Door prizes were awarded to Pam Hein and Pat Foutz. Boxes of Kentucky fried chicken constituted the dinner, and a featured event by a few seniors was the architectural building of pyramids from the empty boxes.

During dinner, Mark Day and Linda Scallon discuss the intricacies of a chicken wing.

Hats Off To Class Of '74

Four hundred fifty seniors took part in the final school event of the year, graduation. The choir opened commencement exercises with two choral selections. "How Excellent is Thy Name" was the classical number, and "God Bless the Child" added a slightly jazz touch. Pastor Roy Campbell gave the Baccalaureate address, followed by class speakers Judy Loosley and Linda Ganzini.

Pat Foutz, student body president, awarded plaques to the top twenty-five students. Senior class president Jim Sanders announced the names of those who were to receive diplomas. In a final moment of exhilaration, the whole senior class threw their mortar boards into the air. Another school year had come to an end.

Board member William Duvall presents a diploma to Brad Chambers.

Tired from walking the length of the football field on crutches, Judy Loosley shares her feelings with Dan Siegel.

"Is my hat straight?" thinks Mike Kobelin as he returns to his seat.

Co-Salutatorian Linda Ganzini challenged students to do what they think best, no matter what others think.

In charge of Baccalaureate, Pastor Roy Campbell spoke on the abundant life that Christ offers.

Using the form of a well-known record on America, Judy Loosley gave the valedictorian speech on hope for America.

In the final moments before marching to the field, graduates take on a more solemn attitude.

ACADEMICS

The biggest challenge of all — that of the future.
Here at Roseburg High, the goal is to successfully prepare each student academically to meet that challenge.

New Teacher Teaches New Class

Soaring enrollment in the Vocational Department caused the addition of a new class and teacher. All classes were filled to capacity — there were even four early bird classes.

To enter Construction III, the new class, the students must have completed Construction I and II, and Drafting was recommended. Taught by Mr. Clark, this class constructed a house, which was sold when completed, and other projects.

For the seventh time in the last nine years, RHS had Vocational students entering national competition. Auto Technology students Marvin Folletz and Jan Wilson placed first in the State Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest and went to Dallas, Texas, in June for the Nationals, where they came in fourth. Each of the boys won a $1,000 scholarship.

"The biggest thing this year is waiting to get into our new facilities," Department Head Marvin Wolf said. "Our goal is to have the best Vocational program in the state."

Besides teaching the three-hour block of Construction III, Mr. Jim Clark, the new teacher, taught a two-hour block of EB Construction II.

Athletic PE, successfully tried last year, was continued this year. Headed by Kerm Bennett, this class was set up by the coaches so the athletes could condition and keep in shape for their sport. Though basically for football players, it is open to others.

Offered for the first time this year, it was a specialized conditioning and weight-lifting class. Also a balance beam was added to the Girls Department.

Miss Barbara Nelson and Mrs. Marilyn Woodruff joined the staff to teach Girls PE. Miss Nelson, in her second year of teaching, taught three PE classes and three U.S. History classes. Miss Woodruff returned to Roseburg to teach her fourth year at RHS. When Miss Stevens became Mrs. Scoggins in December, Mrs. Linda Sanders returned to RHS to teach Girls PE in her place.

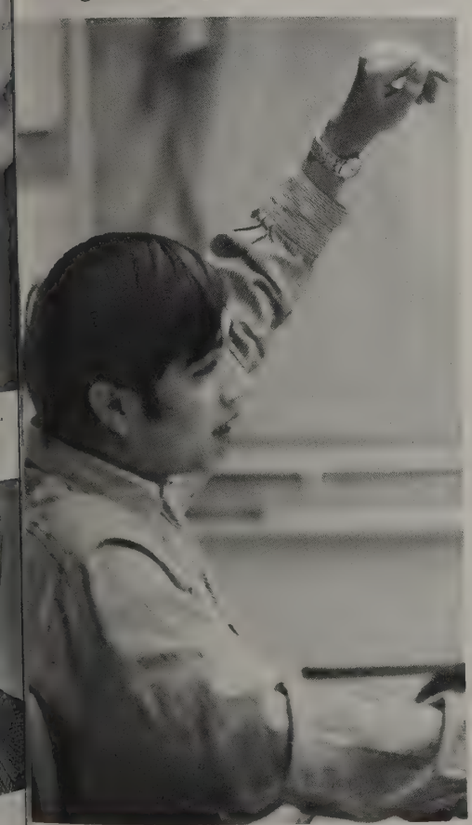
Students Construct Straw Icosahedrons

Stephanie Conn knows taking notes is one of the prerequisites to success in Math.

As an experiment this year, the math department added a new course, Computational Math. It is designed for students who need a review in the fundamental arithmetic skills with the main objective being that by the end of the course the students will be able to compete in the present day society, having learned the necessary skills. Computational Math is taught on an individual study where the students can work at their own speed. Consumer Math and Senior Basic Math, continued from last year, have been quite successful.

In the Math Department Larry Baker and Donald Crossfield were the newcomers. Mr. Baker conducted three classes of Computational Math and one class of Consumer Math, while Mr. Crossfield taught classes in Algebra II, Basic Math, and Applied Math.

Tom Allen waits to ask a question about solving the last step in the equation.



Dave Trim and Bill Gregory find two heads better than one in Investigating Math.

Seamster Reggie Powell progresses slowly on his first sewing project, an apron.

Boys Dominate Homemanagement

Homemaking courses prepare the student for managing a home. This course covers everything from choosing a home and its furnishings to the delicate work of crewel and embroidery. While studying choosing a home and its furnishings, they make visits to mobile homes and furniture stores.

Another exciting point of the year is the play school, which the students put on for younger brothers and sisters and RHS teachers' children, ages 3-6. The weeks prior to the play school were spent baking yeast breads and foods that were then frozen for future use as snacks for the children.

Sewing, too, represents a major part of the classroom activity. Some of the projects completed were the making of stuffed animals, pillows, aprons, shirts, and dresses.

Research Class Visits Lane C.C.

Science Department expanded again, adding a new class. This class, Reading and Research, is an individualized class where the students select a project which they research, set-up and perform themselves.

Several of the projects undertaken were the making of a wind tunnel and a hot air balloon, and the conducting of experiments on plant growth and algae. After taking the class, one student said, "It's great if you can make yourself work."

This class traveled to Lane Community College, where they attended an Oregon Junior Academy of Science meeting. Here Bill Murphy presented the wind tunnel he built.

New equipment added to the department was a new calculator, incubator, and microscope.

Mülhe, Or Tick Tack Toe — Big Hit In

Mr. Strong, the new German teacher, told his classes German fairy tales, taught them German songs, and introduced Mühle, Germany's advanced game of tick tack toe. Other activities included celebrating German Christmas customs and listening to some German Nationals.

Spanish was taught, as usual, by Mr. Padilla, who also helped his classes celebrate the foreign Christmas customs. They not only had different kinds of Spanish food, but the students made piñatas and then broke them open.

On Pan American Day, some students went on TV and radio programs to tell people what it is.

One fun event for French students was learning Christmas carols in French and then going caroling. In class Mrs. Gorton, who returned to teach again, acquainted them with the Christmas and New Year's customs of France.

As Requirement For All

Candi Prudler writes an essay on symbolism in "The Secret Sharer."

During parents' visitation, Mr. Bodeen's explanation of his English class brings chuckles from Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Sult but a look of dismay from Mr. Warren.

Using an audio-visual aide, Mike Moore delivers his term project for Speech.

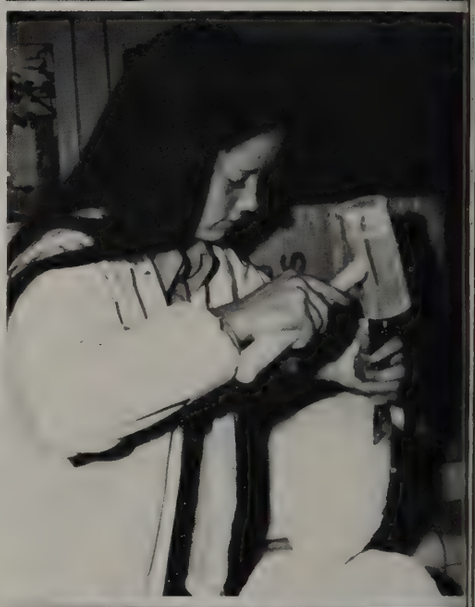
The second phase of the Development program got under way in 1974. Two new semester courses — Speed Reading and Reading for Enjoyment — are being offered. Taught by Mr. Brockway, these courses were open to anyone, with seniors getting first choice.

Two proposals were made by the English Department. First, they wanted the name English changed to Language Arts, because English seems to refer only to grammar, and there are many courses offered at RHS which have no connection with grammar. Secondly, they proposed a semester speech course which all students would be required to take before graduating. This would begin in two years if approved.

English Department Head Robert Eskelson, when asked about changes in the courses now being offered, replied, "How can you improve something already perfect?"

New to the department this year was Mr. McGough, who taught three classes of 10 BY English and two classes of 10 B English.

Mr. Redetzke had paintings displayed at U.C.C. and in the News Review.



Shaping the clay, potter Gary McCleary makes a vase for Drawing and Painting II.

Students Draw Self Portraits

Deeply engrossed, Carrie Spires adds the finishing touches to her self portrait.

The Art Department began in full swing the scope and sequence program that was tested the last half of '73. This Fine Arts program coordinated the junior high art departments with the senior high's, and the senior high's with universities. In this way the student avoided being taught the same material repeatedly and was continually becoming more technically skilled and better prepared for vocational jobs.

Junior and senior students often visited one of the television studios or the News Review office and got actual training in the field of their interest.

Courses became more specialized, until the seniors picked one of four areas studied as a sophomore — photography, sculpture, cast jewelry, and ceramics — and studied it in depth. In this individualized class, the students chose projects themselves and then worked at their own speed.

New equipment added to the department was a dry mount press, print dryers, air brushes, and various dark room supplies.

Miss Carol Willing joined the department to teach Art I, Drawing and Painting, and Commercial Art.

When assisted by Gail Mallard and Mark Moore, drawing is fun for Bill Makinson.

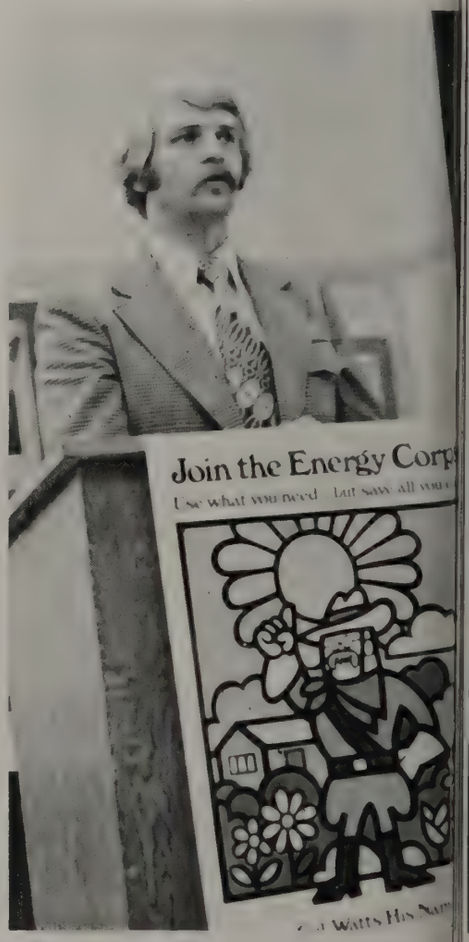
An employee of P.P. & L. tries to convince seniors to conserve energy.



Taking Notes occupies much of David Lennington, Carrie Spires, and Dana Moffitt's time in United States history.

Center Opens Second Semester

Giving a lecture is seldom a serious matter in Mr. Thomas's history class.

An addition to the history classes was a resource center added in the back of H-16. It was opened at the beginning of the second semester when Mr. Hicks and Mr. Cobb switched rooms. Specializing in United States history, this small library contained resource textbooks, paperbacks, and novels. It was open to students every day.

As for the seniors, Modern Problems covered the same areas it had in previous years. Some of the subjects touched were economics and the stock market, income tax, politics, pollution, and human behavior.

Not new, but never publicized, is Mr. Sturtz's AP European history class, in which the students realized an opportunity to acquire college credit. This year several of the students took the exam.

After teaching his last three years in Portland and Medford, Mr. Daniel Cobb joined the History Department to teach four classes of United States history and one of Modern Problems. Also new to the department was Miss Barbara Nelson, who taught United States history half the day and Girls PE-10 the other half.

Office Occupations Changes Rooms

After school, Tammy Thompson checks her total against the adding machine.

Business student June Dixon works to perfect her typing and decrease her time.

Once again the biggest changes in the Business Department were centered around Office Occupations. It was moved from 208 to HR I and II, enabling the department to introduce a resource area. The resource area featured individualized language lab study units which were acquired from Fremont Junior High School and then completely wired by student Brad Fish. They were used by the students for skill-building exercises and shorthand drill.

Moving Office Occupations also gave the department a chance to expand the secretarial room.

Three teachers joined the department this year. Mrs. LaVelle Reed taught Typing I, Shorthand I, and Secretarial Office Practice. Mr. Dale Sunitsch's classes were a two-hour block — Clerical Office Practice and Office Machines — and Mr. Stephen Putman instructed three classes of sophomore General Business and two classes of Business Law.

Musicians Compete In Contest

When the RHS Band was invited to march at the University of Oregon-Arizona State game, they traveled to Autzen Stadium to present the half-time entertainment.

On April 19, they went to Oregon State University to give a concert at the first Music Festival ever to be held there.

Twenty-six band members competed in the solo ensemble contest held annually in Ashland. They did extremely well, receiving a total of fifteen one's, nine two's, and one three. Steve Flanagen, Kristy Cramer, Debbie Hausotter, and Patty Palmer, as alternate, were chosen to go to state.

After raising $2,600 by selling Almond Roca and calendars, the band left March 26 for San Francisco. There they gave concerts at various schools in the area, stayed with members from the band of the school they entertained, and returned March 31.

They gave two concerts this year — a Winter and a Pops Concert, omitting the usual Pre-tour Concert.

The stereo system, stolen in '73, was replaced in the band's equipment.

In early December the A Capella choir spread its music throughout Oregon. Traveling northward they gave concerts at the State Capitol Building in Salem, Rosevilla Senior-Citizen Residency in Milwaukee, and the Crescent Valley High School. Then returning home they sang at the Valley River Center in Eugene. In mid May the Girls Glee also performed at the Valley River Center.

The principal project of the A Cappella choir, the musical play "Oliver," was presented April 25-27. Working approximately three months, the cast, selected from the choir, was assisted by drama students with the scenery, lighting, and make-up.

A Capella and Girls Glee combined to give a fall concert, a Christmas concert, which was presented on both television and radio stations, and a Spring Concert, which was held in the U.C.C. auditorium.

Orange R Produces Bigger Papers

Most of the '74 Orange R's were captured in a collage by their photographer.

By working together, the Orange R staff completes the record size 24-pager.

This year the Orange R expanded several issues with a "Special Supplement." Used for the first time, this insert discussed matters of importance to the students. Articles on the energy shortage, the new vocational building, and the "activity shortage" were a few examples.

For the third year in a row, the Orange R earned the First Class award for high school newspapers from NSPA (National Scholastic Press Association) and CSPA (Columbia Scholastic Press Association).

As a means for both fun and money, the staff sponsored a record dance. It was the first one in recent years and earned lots of money.

This year's Orange R was noted for longer papers than ever before. They produced many twelve and sixteen page papers, and hit an all-time record of twenty four pages in their last paper of the year.

Male Returns To Edit Yearbook

Waiting for the bell to ring, members of the staff enjoy a few minutes of joking.

Unlucky number thirteen disproved itself once again, when with prompting from the advisor, Don Bodeen, the staff met all four deadlines. Two current year students were also on a thirteen-member staff which earned National School yearbook's top award — A+.

After twenty-three years under female direction, the Umpqua finally had a male editor, Mike Kobelin. He and the faithful twelve could boast of producing the biggest collegiate size yearbook ever at RHS. Expanding the book to 264 pages, the additional eight-page allotment was scattered throughout the book, enlarging the Sports section and various others.

New to the Sports section this year were the special line effects done on several pictures.

Designing layouts for student portrait pages was Sue Gratkowski's job.

CLUBS

Whether clubs exist to promote school spirit, to further a learning experience,
or just to have fun,
they always display the presence of leadership and the opportunity for working together.

"N" shouts Kris Young as she leads the traditional 'INDIANS' cheer.

Totally involved, Adelle Wooton spurs the football team on to victory.

Varsity Rally Squad, comprised of six girls, supported the football and basketball teams and promoted school spirit. Summer of '73 at Squaw Valley Rally Camp in California, the girls were honored for their outstanding performance by winning thirty daily ribbons and earning the 'Spirit Stick.' They were also awarded the Superior Trophy for Excellence.

Backed by the enthusiasm of their advisor Miss Barbara Nelson, the Rally supplied refreshments for football players every Thursday during the season, organized and presented pep assemblies, and painted signs. In decorating the players' lockers and the locker room, the Rally let the players know they were "backing them all the way."

Embarrassed by a tiny mistake, Peggy Johnson continues doing their dance routine.

Trying to get a little enthusiasm going within the student body and to promote spirit for all school activities — especially athletics — the Spirit Committee was formed this year.

In past years Roseburg High sponsored a Pepsters Club, which was actively participated in, but because of recent declining membership, it was discontinued.

Spirit Committee was formed to replace the Pepsters. It sold ribbons and decals, made football signs, constructed football run-throughs, and assisted the rally. During Homecoming the group sponsored the "Mr. Irresistible" contest, senior Bill Michalek earning the title.

Distinguishing themselves as an organization, the club made outfits to wear on game days. Using orange and black as their color scheme, the girls sewed corduroy pantsuits with contrasting sweaters underneath.

President Cindy Lander was assisted by Pixie Bonebrake, Vice-President; Dixie Bonebrake, Secretary; and Estelle Boyd, Treasurer. Miss Barbara Nelson was the club's advisor.

Dressed in her club outfit, Karen McLaughlin designs basketball spirit signs.

Bums Boost Basketball Boys

With congratulations, Rick Russell gives Bob Price the Bum of the Week award.

Although technical fouls have been called on the RHS Bums in the past, they were very proud of the fact that this year was exemplary. According to the Head Bum Rick Russell, they were organized "to harass the basketball teams that came to Roseburg."

This year there were seventy-five Bums, an increase of fifteen over last year. Headed by Mr. Ed Burton, the Bums supported their team not only at home games, but also at away games. In Vice-Bum Kobelin's opinion "the Bums were known and feared throughout the region." Bum of the Week was awarded to a bum superior in mind, spirit, and body at each week's game.

Rick Russell was assisted by Mike Kobelin, Vice-Bum; Kelly Coughlin, Secretary; Scott Dunlap and Bill Michalek, Sergeants at Arms; and Mark Mizell, Pastor.

GAA Boasts 70 In 8 Sports

Endeavoring to promote athletics, Girls Athletic Association encouraged sportsmanship and fostered friendly and healthy attitudes. Covering a wide area of sports, over seventy members participated in field hockey, volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, tennis, swimming, track, and cross country.

In order to raise money for athletic equipment, the girls were involved in several projects. They held a candle sale and a hot dog sale earning $75. Their largest money-making activity was the Trading Post, located in the gym lobby. The girls sold candy and school supplies during both lunches and before and after school profiting $150.

Assisting President Kay Jansen was Vice-President Nannette Sasser, Secretary Sandy Orr, Trading Post Chairwoman Sherry Hockett, and Scrapbook Chairwoman Cindy Lander. Mrs. Linda Sanders and Miss Joan Stevens were the club's advisors.

Candy Stripers Work At Hospitals

Fifty RHS Candy Stripers assisted with school innoculations and the bloodmobile rest station and volunteered at Mercy Medical Center and Douglas Community Hospital. There they distributed juices to patients, made beds, put away laundry, and aided the nurses in the nursery and pediatrics ward.

Club activities involved a potluck dinner at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Helleck, a "mini-capping" pizza party, and a Christmas potluck and gift exchange. Monthly meetings were held involving persons speaking on different medical professions.

The club sold candy and operated the paper machine to earn money for a scholarship.

Continuing an annual event, Candy Stripers sent gifts to Vietnam veterans at Fort Lewis Hospital. They also collected Leggs egg-shaped nylon containers to decorate for Easter gifts at the local hospitals.

At the end of the year a mother-daughter banquet was held to give awards and scholarships and to conclude the year.

Sally Abel, President, was assisted by Shelley Walls, Vice-President; Diane Krevitsky, Secretary; and Marilyn Burnell, Treasurer.

CHARITY-12 is a club of twelve sophomore and junior girls organized to help other people. The girls distributed holiday food baskets, sponsored a teachers' tea and open house and visited local rest homes. A Kidnap breakfast was given for the six new sophomore members.

Leading the club was Barb Warren, assisted by Michelle Coen, Vice President; Sue Sult, Secretary; and Betty Robins, Treasurer. Mrs. Sharon Doolittle was the advisor.

Responsible for exchange students and stimulating interest in the American Field Service, the AFS club cooperated with the international AFS program. Anneliese Walter, from Austria, was this year's exchange student.

To raise money, the club sold hot dogs, Austrian cookies, Reeses and cotton candy, and rags.

Other activities were a Short Term Exchange Program, a radio takeover day, a foreign dinner, painting of Christmas windows, and decorating of a Homecoming window.

President Beth Sykes was assisted by Vice President Barb Durand, Secretary Loreen Richey, and Treasurer Karen Finster. The advisors were Mrs. Adelle Sherwin, Mrs. Helen Dickinson, and Miss Karen Prinz.

Austrian exchange student Anneliese Walter studies American Literature.

Mr. George was the club's advisor.

With heads bowed in prayer, Clark Campbell asks the Lord's blessing on the meeting.

For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. (Matt. 18:20) Involving approximately fifty attending members, the New Life Club was comprised of Christian students who gathered together for devotions, prayer and a sharing of experiences.

Each Wednesday, meetings were held during both lunches, with Clark Campbell heading first lunch and Janet Taylor second lunch.

Often throughout the year, guest speakers or tape recordings were scheduled. Giving a series of five talks, Dennis Murphy, the Youth Pastor of the Nazarene Church in Roseburg, spoke on Bible prophecy of the End Times and led discussions Tuesdays during lunch. The group also listened to tapes on prayer.

The two New Life groups joined forces for several parties during the year and the annual spring banquet. They also joined on money-making projects such as bake sales and a hot dog sale. At the beginning of the year, membership cards were sold in order to make money for parties.

First lunch President Clark Campbell was assisted by Vice-President Ron Kenny and Secretary Barb Hugill. Second lunch President Janet Taylor was assisted by Vice-President Candy Prudler.

Girls' League Sponsors Homecomin

Explaining Homecoming plans, Jeannette Myers conducts the Girls' League meeting.

Pleasantly surprised, Teri Campbel learns she is Girl of the Month.

Mrs. Fread gives Jeannette Myers advice as the Christmas Ball progresses.

Comprised of all the girls in the school, Girls' League involved girls in several activities. They sponsored the Homecoming dance and decorated a Homecoming window earning second place. In addition, the League planned the Christmas Ball and in February sold 700 Val-o-grams and sponsored an all-school assembly.

In the spring the girls enjoyed a senior-mothers tea involving 500 seniors and their mothers.

Five meetings were held, featuring guest speakers and a variety of entertainment including skits, swing choir and the 'couples game.'

Money earned by activities during the year was used to give a $100 scholarship to a worthy senior girl.

President Jeannette Myers was assisted by Sue Sult, Vice-President; Penny Davis, Secretary; Michal Bintliff, Treasurer; and Barb Warren, Marshal. Mrs. Phyllis Fread was Girls' League's advisor.

Club Hosts District Tournament

Organized to stimulate interest in speech activities and to raise money to attend tournaments, the Speech Club was involved in several fund-raising activities through the year. They held corn dog and taco sales, sold fruit during lunches, and had a radio takeover day. Money left over at the end of the year was used to finance members to summer work shops.

To build interest in speech activities, the club presented a program to the junior highs, explaining their activities and demonstrating the events that they compete in.

Members attended several tournaments in Oregon and hosted the District Speech Tournament.

President Charlene Cooper was assisted by Vice-President Kay Doering, Secretary-Treasurer Donell Hoard, and Chaplain Bernette Sullivan.

Rehearsing his expository speech, Mike Moore illustrates his subject.

Mr. Richard Lanier was the club's advisor.

To further the interest of dramatic arts in the school, the Thespian and Drama Club was originated in 1965. Headed by the drama teacher Mr. Richard Lanier, the club has thirty participating members, twenty more than the previous year.

Divided into two parts, the Drama Club has an open membership. In order to become a Thespian, a Drama Club member must participate in club activities or in the all-school plays. The group held two initiations and inducted nine new Thespians.

Fund-raising projects involved decorating a homecoming window, a corndog sale and a refreshment counter at the all-school play "Harvey." A trip to the Shakespearean Theatre in Ashland, Oregon, was enjoyed by twenty-five members, when they watched the play "Waiting For Godot."

In the end of May the club, headed by Chris Onderko, presented the play "Please No Flowers" to Jo Lane and Fremont Junior High students. The total student endeavor was rehearsed after school hours.

President Penny Davis was assisted by Vice-President Bart DeCamp, Secretary-Treasurer Ann Fields, and Points Chairman, Teri Campbell.

Club Helps Construct Piñatas

Called "Los Conquistadores," meaning "The Conquestors," the Spanish Club studied the cultures of the Spanish speaking world.

The club is looking forward to a trip to Mexico in March of 1975. To raise money for their trip, members sold walnuts and mistletoe in December. They also held donut sales during both lunches. The club continued through the summer working on various money raising projects including several corn dog sales. A record of the hours each member worked was kept, and the money was divided according to the hours worked. The individual members made up the difference for the trip themselves.

Other activities involved the club joining with the Spanish classes to construct two piñatas. They gave one to each of the children's wards at Mercy Medical Center and Douglas Community Hospital.

President Cris Matthews was assisted by Paul Carrow, Vice President; Pat Matthews, Secretary; and Brenda Benedict, Treasurer. The club's advisor was Señor José Padilla.

Assisted by Pat Matthews, Julie Reid, and Brenda Benedict, Cris Matthews works on th piñata to give to the children's wards at the local hospitals.

Club Enjoys German Traditions

Earning money for the club, Sue Stiles sells Jeannette Myers some cookies

Having twenty more members than last year, the German Club endeavored to increase their knowledge of German customs and language.

Because soccer is Germany's national sport, members participated in several soccer matches with Glide in the fall and spring. In December a tic-tac-toe tournament, A Christmas potluck, and Christmas caroling in German were several club activities.

President Karen Novick was assisted by Judy Allen, Vice President; Jeannie Kaser, Secretary and Sue Sult, Treasurer.

Group Sings French Carols

To better understand the customs of French-speaking countries, the French Club was organized. This year projects were focused toward a trip to Europe.

Twelve members involved in several activities participated in corndog and cup cake sales. Members of last year's French Club earned a thousand dollars. A portion of the money was given to Karen Cole and Teri Campbell, each receiving two hundred dollars. They earned the rest of the money themselves and spent six weeks in Europe touring Italy, Belgium, Germany, and England. Three of those weeks were spent touring France. The money earned this year will be given to qualifying members of next year's French Club.

President Teri Campbell was assisted by Vice President Karen Cole and Secretary Donda Gerretsen. Mrs. Paula Gorton was the group's very helpful advisor.

Club Supervises Young Rocketeers

"What went wrong!" exclaims Bill Murphy to Joe Everett as his first attempt to launch his rocket fails.

With Bruce Kenny tentatively looking on, Bill's next attempt is successful.

Organized this year for the first time, the eight members of the Federation of Amateur Rocketry endeavored to encourage the study and research of model rocketry. Although the club was in its developing stages, they held several launches on a location west of Roseburg in the fall and spring.

Assisting Mr. Otto at Hucrest Elementary, club members supervised fifth and sixth graders in building and launching their rockets. The club also tried to begin a city wide rocket club.

Combining a chemistry project with his Rocket Club activities, Bill Murphy built a wind tunnel used in the rocket launches. Members also constructed their own launches.

President Bruce Kenny was assisted by Vice-President Bill Murphy, Secretary-Treasurer Dave Harrington, and Launch Coordinator Merrill Beck. Dave Harrington did the photography for the club.

Living up to their motto, "learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve," members were involved in several activities during the year. Twenty members showed their agriculture projects at the Douglas County Fair, three of which went to the State Fair at Salem and earned a seventh place for their chapter.

In September the officers participated in a Leadership Camp at Myrtle Point. A Leadership Skills Contest was held there in March in which beginning and advanced teams participated. Also in March was a Shop Skills Contest in Glide, Oregon.

To raise money for the annual FFA Banquet, members sold corn dogs, earning $75.00. At the banquet, awards were given and the officers for the following year were installed.

FFA also had a land lab program. The chapter rented fifty-nine acres from the school district, north of Roseburg, where members could keep their animals.

President Rick Harvey was assisted by Vice-President Leann Thomas, Secretary Cindy Thomas, Treasurer Curtis Bowers, Reporter John Arney, and Sentinel Markus Stanfield. The advisors were Mr. John Baird and Mr. Gary George.

Mark Stanfield, Rick Harvey, and Ray Hammersley constructed a pig-feeding platform.

Future Business Leaders of America-Secretarial was formed to bring future business men and women together to learn and compete in various skills and to assist the businesses of the community in any way possible.

Mrs. Reed, the club's new advisor, taught the Office Procedures class in which all eleven FBLA members participated. The class involved business typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and experience on business machines such as adding machines, dictaphones and recording devices.

Working through the work-study program, the girls each held part-time jobs at elementary schools and local businesses. They also participated in District and Statewide competition of business related skills.

In the spring the members went on a field trip to observe different businesses in the area.

Also involved in money-making activities, FBLA members worked on a Homecoming float, for which they won first place, and had a fire wood sale.

As a club the girls planned several get-togethers, including a Christmas party, just to have a good time.

President Cheryl Baltutat was assisted by Tracee Paschke, Vice-President; Sue Palenscar, Secretary; and Deloris Green, Treasurer.

SPORTS

Even though they may be referred to as team sports, all athletic contests usually boil down to one-on-one competition. And then, those who are able to rise to the occasion and meet the challenge are hailed the winners.

Miss State Berth By One Point

"The ball landed in the wrong place!" exclaims tight end Bill Tester.

Accumulating the best record in the last four years, the team stimulated the student body over the possibility of going to state. Although marred by two defeats, the season's record boasted defeating Grants Pass there for the second time in history. The season was anticlimactic because the Indians came within one point of beating Medford and gaining a state play-off berth.

Making a poor showing in the season's opener against Beaverton, the Indians experienced costly mistakes and a fair sized flogging. Seven turnovers were ascribed to the Indians, but Beaverton was tagged with 150 yards of penalties.

Learning from their previous mistakes, the Tribe sent the Bend Lava Bears back to their caves. Their "buttress" defense held the Bears for thirty-one minutes before Bend made a first down, and then held them to two first downs the rest of the game.

It appeared that Roseburg was unbeatable following their romp over Aloha. Thirteen first downs for the Warriors compared to twenty-three for the Indians exemplified the kind of football played. Another outstanding statistic was 492 total yards for the Tribe and 147 yards for Aloha.

Less intense, but with the same effects as the week before, the David Douglas game appeared to be a milestone on the road to playing Medford. Beating the Scots gave the Tribe an excellent record with which to enter league play.

Coach Bell improved his already excellent coaching staff by adding Mr. Larry Baker. Mr. Baker, a graduate of both San Francisco State and Southern Oregon College, coached at Scenic Jr. High School, Central Point, for five years, and one year at Salesian High School in Richmond, California, before coming here. He did all the scouting and coaching of defensive ends for the Indians.

With forty-five records being set, and the best season record in four years, 7-2, the Indians achieved a more than successful season.

Medford 14 Roseburg 13

Taking the helm early in the first half, a highly rated Medford team scored within four downs.

The Indians equaled the score within six plays, following a foiled Medford field goal attempt. Turning the tide, Roseburg's defense, tagged the "Mad Dogs," held the Tornadoes to 39 net yards rushing and four first downs, one in the second half. In the game-breaking play, Medford sliced through the Indians' kickoff and took the lead.

Completely dominating the second half, Roseburg scored twice: the first, a Dave Driver-to-Rob Simpson pass, was nullified by a penalty, and the second scrambled in by Driver after eight and a half minutes in which Roy Geiger's PAT was disappointingly wide.

The Tribe outplayed the Tornadoes in total yardage, 259 to 111; and first downs, 12 to 4. "We're pretty darn lucky to win," expressed Medford's head coach Fred Spiegelberg.

In the opening kickoff of the Medford game, Mike Chriss gets halted on the 15-yard line by Jim Sanders (32), Wally Rainsberry (87) and Bruce Glover (36).

Klamath Falls 13 Roseburg 23

Playing an emotionless game following their near win over Medford, the Indians came close to being scalped.

Following the opening kickoff, Dallas Witty intercepted a K Falls' aerial attempt and broke his way to the 13-yard line. Failing to plunge for a touchdown or to boot a cinch field-goal, the Indians scored by Paul Jackson's tackling Lee Reed for a safety.

Seven plays later Rob Simpson cracked through the Pelican line for his first of three touchdowns. Widening the score to 10-0, Dave Driver dumped a pass to Bob Dirksen for the two-point conversion.

K Falls, controlling the remainder of the first half, scored after an 82-yard drive and narrowed the Indians' lead to 10-7.

Opening the second half, the Indians seized the Pelicans' tail feathers and broke a surprise huddle play for 47 yards. Moving the tally up to 16 points, Simpson plunged the ball over.

Second life came to the Pelicans, who scored early in the fourth quarter. Roseburg retaliated, taking the last six minutes and 14 plays to break Simpson around the end.

Intensely watching the Aloha game, Coach Burton displays his idiosyncrasy of chewing on a roll of tape.

Grants Pass 12 Roseburg 27

Displaying the ability and desire to win a big game, the Indians raided the Cavemen for the second time in history at Grants Pass.

Once more dominating the game, the Indians controlled the ball most of the first three quarters. Penalties, five for 65 yards, were abundant but didn't hinder the Tribes' offense, which added up to 372 total yards and 21 first downs.

Executing the option to perfection, Junior tailback Dean Jones dashed for 49 yards to open the score to 6-0. Grants Pass retaliated with their striking pass offense to even the score at 6-6. Bob Dirksen rampaged for 24 yards, topping off a five-play, 41-yard drive, and made it 13-6.

Roseburg widened the margin to 21-6, with Dave Driver completing a 16-yard pass to Kelly Davidson in the end-zone.

Not having the ball for more than three scrimmage plays at a time, Grants Pass was held up by the Indians' "battleship" defense.

The Cavemen came on strong the last four minutes, tallying up 127 yards and four first downs. Their efforts were in vain, however; Roseburg having a 27-12 lead.

Ashland 0 Roseburg 14

Halting a homecoming losing streak held since 1969, and scoring their first shut-out of the season, the Warriors stuffed the Grizzly Bears.

In the first quarter, Ashland wasn't able to move past the Indians' 40-yard line.

Early in the second quarter, the Indians took 12 plays to plunge out a 66-yard drive, capped off with Ed Grosso gliding around the end for the score.

In the third quarter action, Larry Hedquist set the stage for the second Roseburg touchdown by returning a Grizzly punt for 41 yards. Seven short plays later Bob Dirksen barged his way across to make the score 14-0.

Both defenses thwarting score-threatening drives, combined with 141 yards of penalties to plug up any point making in the remaining time Junior defensive back, Mark Zerbach terminated Ashland's best executed drive early in the fourth period, by intercepting Grizzly quarterback Kevin Krumdieck's pass.

Achieving a spot on the offensive all-league squad were Bill Tester, Dan Siegel, Bob Dirksen, Pete McCool, second team, and Ed Gross, honorable mention.

Earning a position on the coaches' defensive poll were Bill Michalek, Jim Sanders, Darrel Bollman, Rick Russell, and Al Corder.

Gaining 460 yards on 101 carries during the season, Bob Dirksen was bestowed the Tribe's Most Valuable Player. Other awards given were: Most Inspirational, Bill Michalek; Most Improved, Bill Miller; Best Blocker, Dan Siegel; and Best Tackler, Jim Sanders.

Crater 12 Roseburg 17

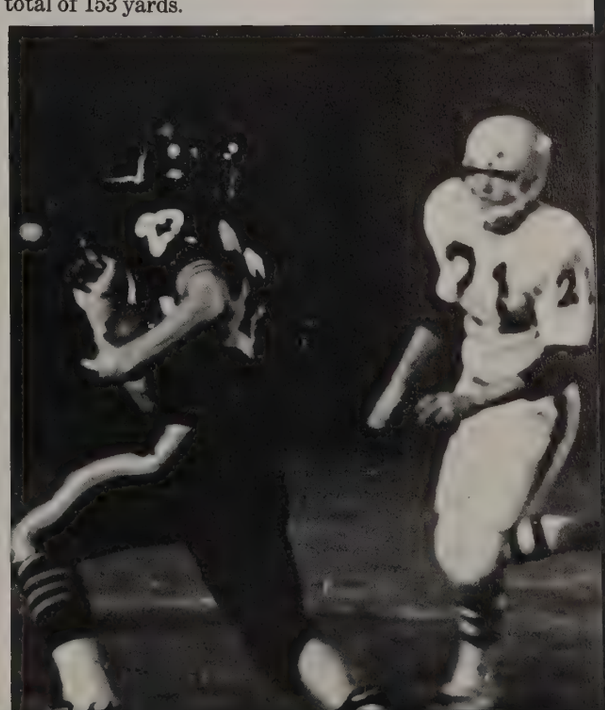
Flaming Comets nearly scorched the tribe in the last action of the season. Battling a homecoming-inspired Comet team, Roseburg fumbled in the second play of the game and gave Crater a scoring opportunity. Paul Jackson stopped this scoring threat by intercepting his first of two passes.

Although the Comets were able to produce one touchdown before the half, Dallas Witty picked off a Crater fireball at the Tribe's 12-yard line to prevent another score. Roy Geiger's 38-yard field goal represented the Indians' only points in the first half.

Their desire to win exemplified second half action. Marching 80 yards in 10 plays, the Warriors were set up for Bob Dirksen's one-yard plunge, which put the Indians ahead, 9-6. Five and a half minutes later Roseburg's offensive line once more cleared a path for Bob Dirksen.

A Driver-to-Dirksen pass added two conversion points, widening the gap to 17-6. The Comets kept on fighting and nearly caught up with the Indians: 17—12. Defensive back Paul Jackson notched up his second interception on the Roseburg five-yard line, spoiling Crater's game-winning touchdown opportunity.

By sprinting around a Bend player Ed Grosso adds 27 yards to his highest game total of 153 yards.



Good Promise Seen In JV's

Gaining playing experience and polishing skills for their varsity year, many junior varsity players displayed their ability. Glenn Miller, Kyle Holmes, Randy Cavens, and Lance Colley, the only sophomore on the team, combined to execute the wishbone backfield.

Trent O'Neal and Steve Cotnam blocked admirably up front.

Defensively, Wally Rainsberry, Craig Priest, and Larry Paxon showed aggressiveness in pursuit of the football.

Season '74 should develop well, with this ability and the returning varsity players.

Sophomores Finish Season Strong

Sweeping around the left end, Jeff Witty attempts to avoid heavy Ashland traffic.

Under the coaching of Stew Robertson and Blair Sturgill, a new coach from Fremont, the sophomores began the season poorly. Gaining necessary experience, they finished the season strong, by winning the last two games.

Executing the option admirably, Jeff Nistler worked with Jeff Witty and Rick Welch, who each averaged 80-90 yards a game.

Blasting holes open for these backs was achieved by linemen George Sutton and Bill Sargent.

Practice was limited to one a day and was held in the new field behind the north grandstand.

Brundige Captures State Crown

Cross-country's popularity is increasing at Roseburg High with outstanding runners such as Debbie Brundige, Mark Bailey, and Scott Surkamer. Outpacing every league opponent, this trio gave the Indians a winning edge which produced a perfect season for both varsities.

Besides winning all league meets including district, the Indians scored tenth in the top fifteen at state. Placing the highest of the boys in thirty-second place, Scott Surkamer clocked a time of 12:42.

Mark Bailey was close behind, placing forty-fifth with a time of 13:03. Seniors Norm Jackson and Scott Wood placed fifty-third and sixty-sixth with 13:08 and 13:19, respectively.

Outrunning the boys, Debbie Brundige ran the course in 11:18.8 for the state title. Cindy Rogers also placed high, getting the ninth position with a time of 12:14.

Holding another top poll, Judy Loosley finished thirty-fifth in 13:22.

Participating against rigid competition in the national meet, Debbie Brundige excelled and placed eighth in the nation.

With one of the largest turnouts ever, Coach Robinson's team had plenty of depth and potential for future years.

Swimmers Break 33 Records

At the beginning of the season, the boys out-swam Reedsport while the girls squirmed by with a two-point margin. The tankers were inconsistent, however, and floated their way down to a double loss against Marshfield. A forced move from Umpqua Community College's pool to the YMCA played a major role in the Tribe's instability.

Thirty-three RHS records were set, broken, and re-broken, eight by the boys and twenty-five by the girls. Among those who set the records were Teresa Davidson (breaking the 100-yard freestyle mark four times), Leedja Zimmerman (bettering her own diving mark five times), and Jim Dirksen (twice beating the 100-yard freestyle time).

Achieving RHS' only win at the District Relays, the powerful boys' relay team placed a very tight fourteenth place at state.

Juniors Mike Pommarane and Leedja Zimmerman were chosen most outstanding for the season. Most improved honors were bestowed on Kent Parsons and Toni Law.

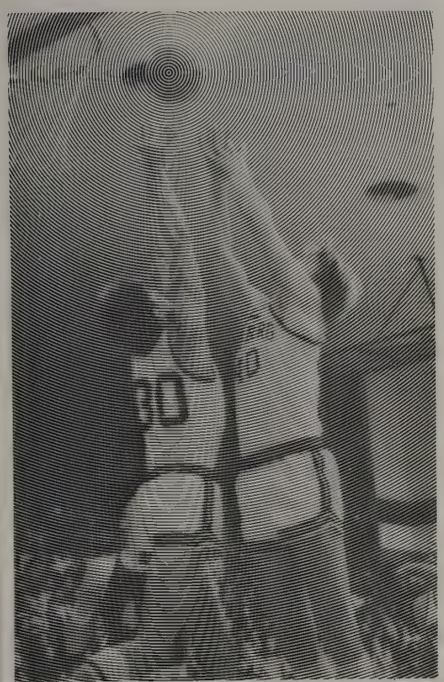
Roots, Langrell Named All-SOC



Leaders in rebounding for the Tribe were Ron Langrell (30) and Randy Reed.

In another bucket-for-bucket game, Dave Driver pumps up a twelvefooter.

Splitting their four games with big competitors — Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, and Medford — wasn't good enough to get the Indians a playoff berth.

Outscoring their opponents 1173 to 1042, the Indians also led in rebounds 616 to 417.

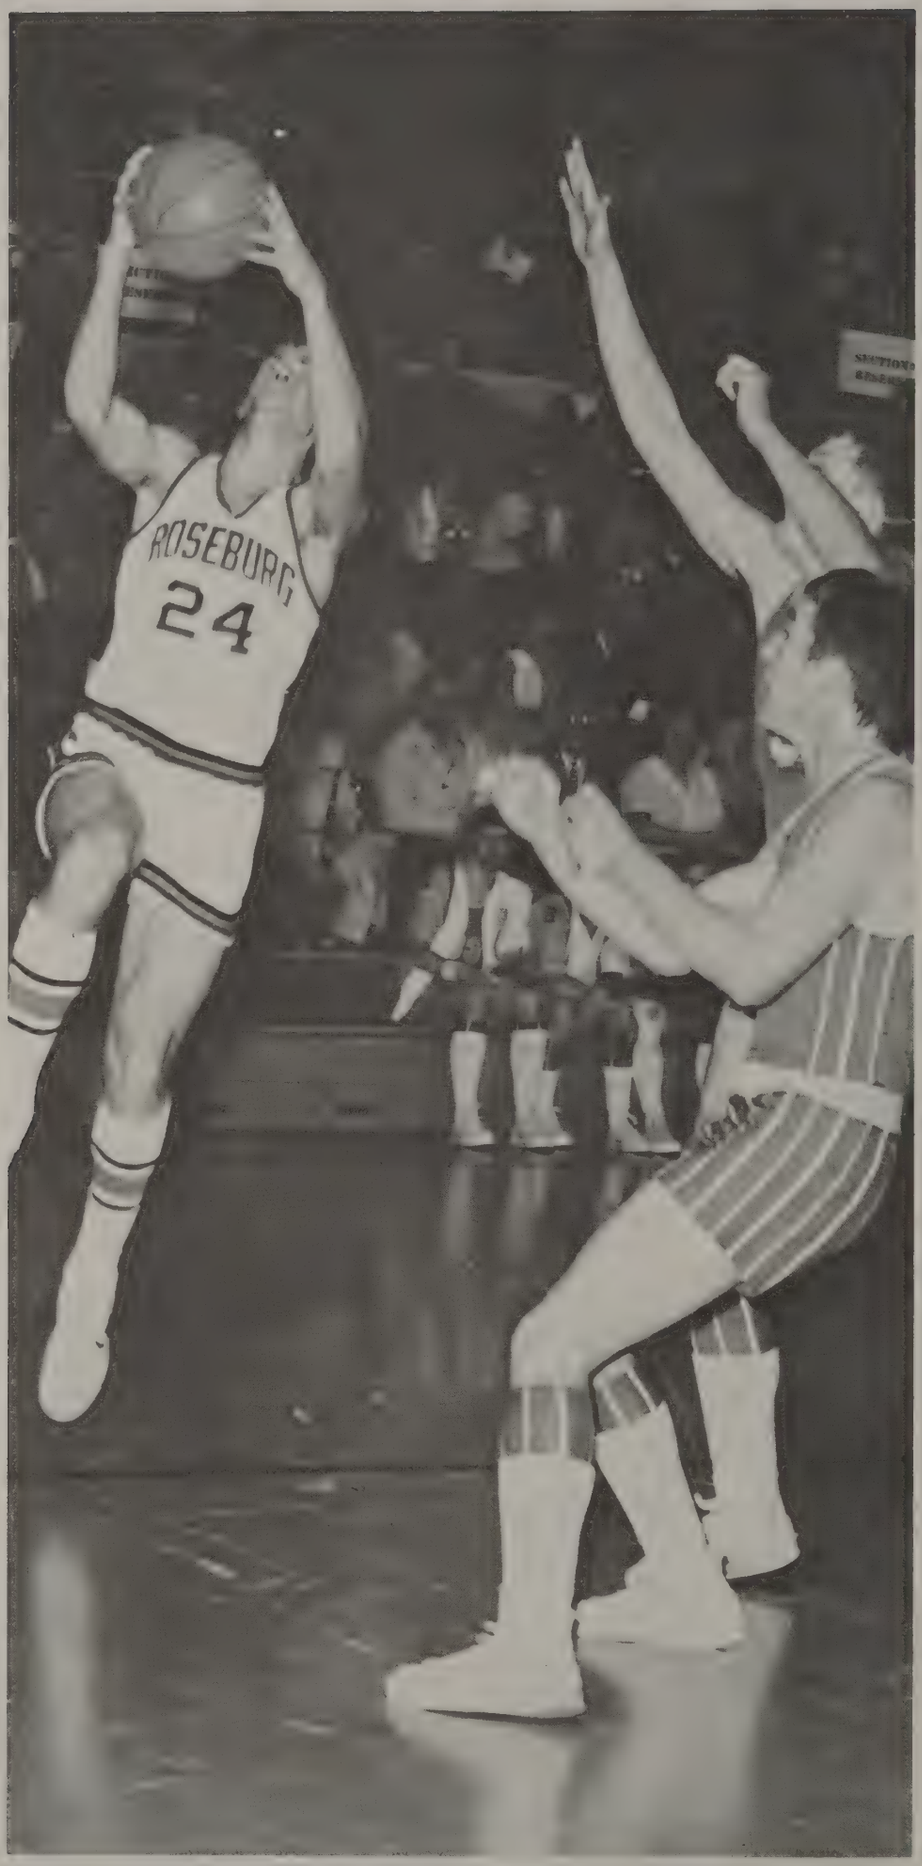
Junior center Ron Langrell topped the scoring list with 284 points. Randy Reed followed closely with 220. Scott Roots, Dave Driver, and Kelly Davidson all made the three-figure numbers with 207, 120, and 115, respectively. Ron Langrell led the rebound category with 183, and Randy Reed was a near second with 162.

Freethrow percentages were at their usual high with eight players having over fifty per cent.

For the second time in three years, all conference honors went to two Roseburg players. Ron Langrell, who had just under a 13-point game average and was second in the league in rebounds, was on the team with Scott Roots, who led the Indians with 90 assits and 83 steals and recoveries.

University of Oregon's coach, Dick Harter, entertained fans and players as the main speaker at the annual awards banquet.

"Slow down; take it easy," expresses Coach Stew Robertson, as the bench watches.



Adding to RHS' lead over Baker, Kelly Davidson drives for a lay-up.

Cavens Leads JV's Scoring

Six-two center Randy Cavens dominated in almost every column, including field goal percentage, free throws made, total points, and rebounds. Gunning in 93 for 149 field goals, Cavens' 62% was followed by Mark Zerbach's 59 buckets for 122 attempts or 48%.

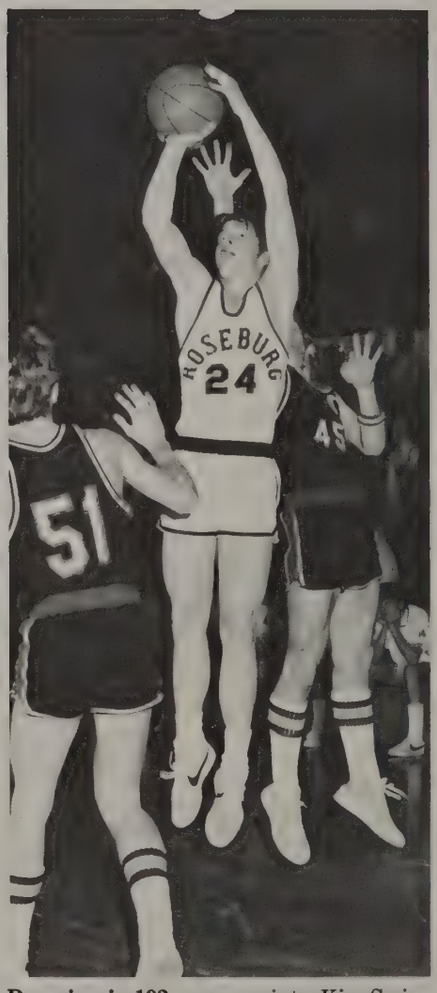
In the rebound category Cavens also led by springing for 203 while Tom Puhl, Mark Zerbach, and Kim Swinford were far behind, pulling down 104, 94, and 92, respectively.

Aggressive Mark Zerbach plugged in 34 for 53 at the freethrow line, setting a high of 64%. Alan Corder dumped in 40 for 68 to also pass the 50% mark.

As a whole, the JVs out-shot their opponents in total points with a 368 margin. Their field goal percentage also bettered their opponents, 45% to 33%.

With much height on the squad, they were able to out-rebound their opponents 750-530.

Among the Tribe's competitors were the intramural All-Stars. Chosen from the newly developed intramural program's six teams, the All-Stars battled hard, but were defeated 75-34.



Pumping in 192 season points, Kim Swinford cans two more over Medford.

Breaking around Chiefs' John Kline, JV Kurt Mobley controls their offensive attack.

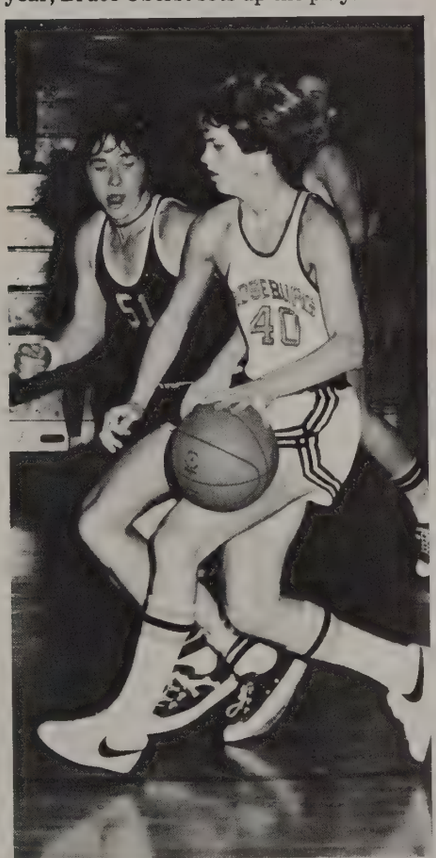
Leading the sophomore Chiefs to their 12-4 season record, Steve Perkins, Jeff Nistler, and Lance Colley scored 129, 113, and 112 points, respectively. Perkins also led in assists with 26. Both he and Ray Wilson were voted "most improved."

Coach Sturgill's squad defeated Riddle and Yoncalla to finish third in the Umpqua Valley "A" Christmas tournament.

Again this year the Braves achieved a winning season with a 9-4 record.

Out-doing everyone else, Tom Bentley swished 232 points through the bucket and led in freethrow percentage with 66%. Closest behind were Jim McCool and Bruce Oberst, with 109 and 102 points each. Also, in the rebound column, Tom Bentley leaped far ahead with 78.

Third highest scorer and rebounder this year, Bruce Oberst sets up the play.



Matmen Pin Down State Title

For the first time in RHS history the Indians were the best of 80 teams at the state meet. Coach Ron Hicks' wrestlers came from behind to edge the defending AAA state champion Milwaukie, 60-55½.

Juniors Gary Bailey at 157 pounds and Darrel Bollman at 178 pounds each won state championships. These crowns are only the second and third times that Roseburg has had state championships. Dave Parkhurst, '54, held the only title prior to Bailey's and Bollman's.

Battling through a rugged series of matches at 168 pounds, Dan Siegel ended up in second place. Coming into his final match, Dan had three close decisions behind him.

A fantastic but disappointing third place was Bob Matthew's position. Having aspirations of doing better, he experienced bad luck in the semifinals, being decisioned 15-6. However, Bob struggled back to claim third place.

Hurky Barry Zeigler rumbled through the meet with one pin, one decision, and two losses to receive fourth place honors.

"It's a good feeling, I'll tell ya," expressed Coach Hicks after coaching Roseburg's first state championship team to victory.

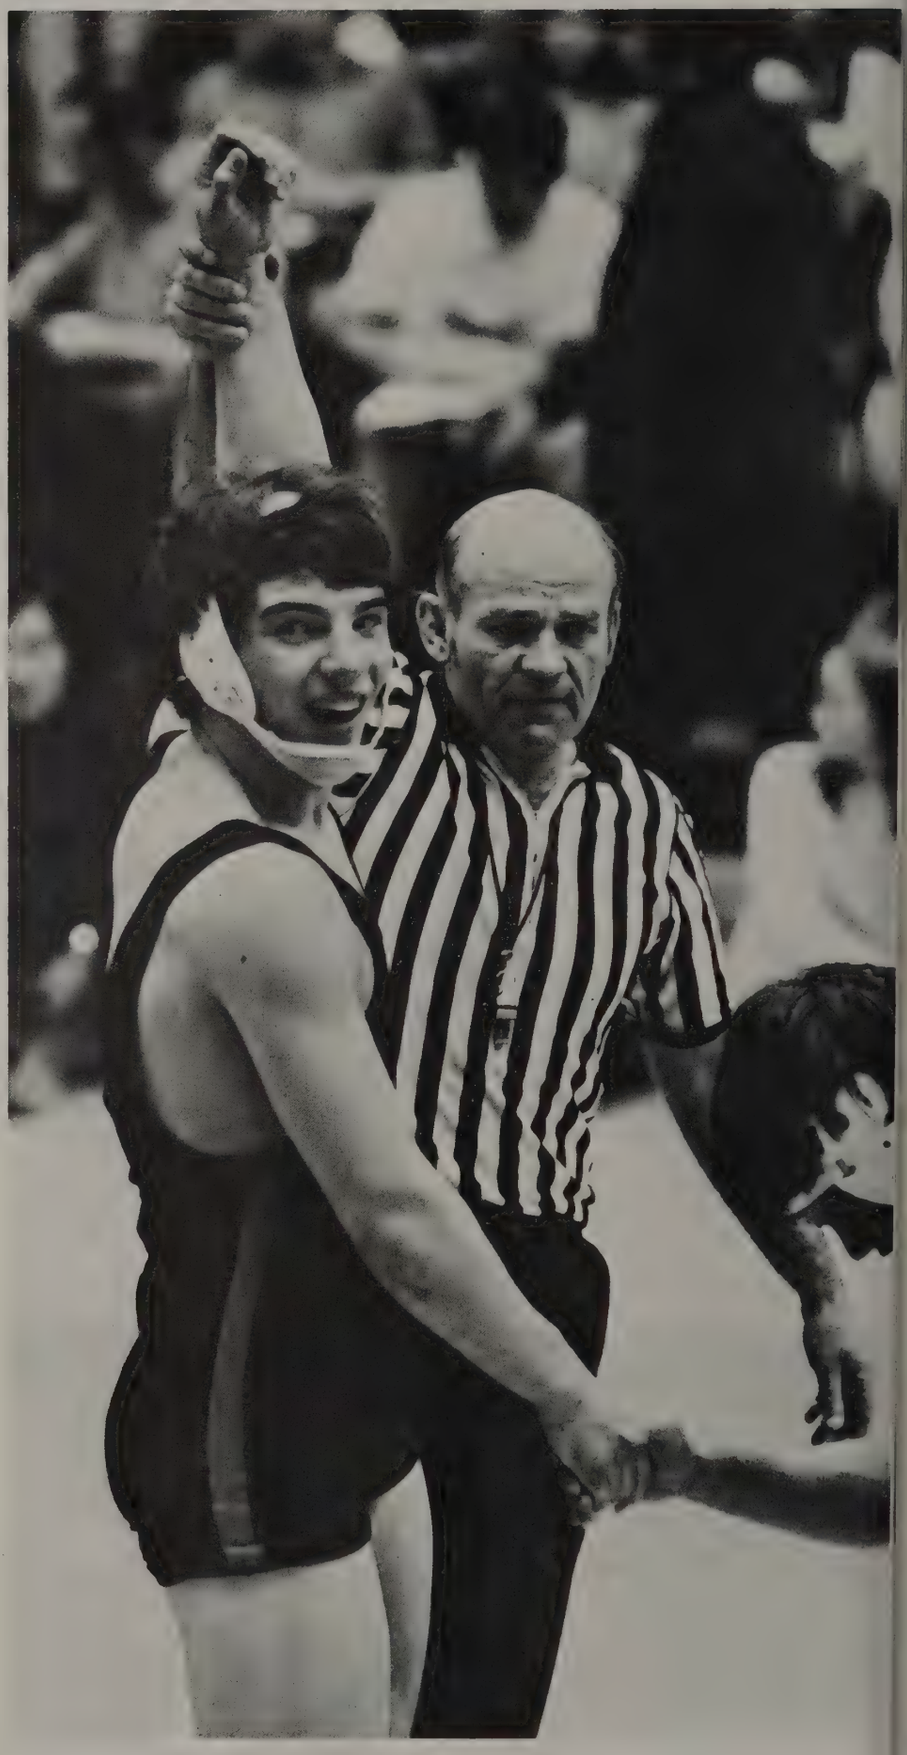
Although the Indians won the state title, the regular season and district meets weren't abundantly fruitful. Grants Pass swept the district meet for the thirteenth time in fourteen years. Roseburg had the only other win in 1971. Even though Grants Pass won, the Tribe had five district champs—Bob Matthews, Darrel Bollman, Dan Siegel, Gary Bailey, and Barry Zeigler — and two runners-up — Mike Stumbo and Rick Spears.

Having only eight seniors on the team caused problems in the lighter weights. Throughout the season they improved, although not enough to combine with the upper weight classes to take district.

One very significant record which was broken was the team pin record. The old record of 78 pins was erased. Darrel Bollman also established a commendable 30-0 individual record.

Smashing down Dave Sould of Del Norte, California, in twelve seconds, Bob Matthews broke the old pinning speed of 16 seconds, set by Bruce Richmond in 1965-66.

Tagged "most valuable" were Darrel Bollman and Bob Matthews. Gary Bailey was bestowed "most inspirational," and George Sutton was honored as the outstanding sophomore.



With one hand Gary Bailey shakes his opponent, and signifies his victory with the other

Greg Myers is not shows because an accident prevented him from completing the season.

Desire to conquer all opponents was the missing ingredient in Coach Severson's team. The second game against Sutherlin was a prime example. After stomping Sutherlin 25-0, the Indians relaxed and got beat 7-6.

Although they lacked desire, the baseballers did have a lot of talent. Two of the starting nine, Bruce Carne and Kelly Davidson, were elected all league. Bill Combs, Kyle Holmes, Greg Dewater, and Dave Driver were all placed on the all-league second team.

Hustler Greg Dewater topped the lower-than-usual batting averages with .295. His bat also lashed out 28 hits, and he was at the plate 95 times, which was also a season record.

Rounding the diamond 21 times, Bruce Carne set the runs-scored record. His sharp eye at bat enabled him to walk 24 times, which surpassed any teammate's mark.

Third in the lineup, Kelly Davidson knocked 14 runs around, and Kyle Holmes slammed in 13 runs for a close second.

Prospected to be the team's weak point, the pitching staff achieved a commendable record. Leading the staff with 4-5 records each, Eric Gerretsen and Bill Combs pitched a total of 123 innings or 69% of all innings played. Combs smoked the ball past batters for 50 strike-outs and a low ERA of 1.3.

The pitching was well padded with reliefers Bob Stack, John Miller, Paul Carrow, and Kelly Davidson.

In his first year as assistant coach, Brock Brockway (17) directs traffic at third.

"We did well, considering the youth on the team," stated Coach Thomas about this year's squad. Evidence of this youth was found in both Mitch Hanan and Dwayne Stevens, who represented the crux of the pitching staff and who led in innings pitched and in lowest ERA, respectively.

Tough early season games against Glide and Riddle varsities gave the JVs needed experience, even though they only won a third of these games.

Pitcher-infielder Jeff Bineham hurled a 4-0 record for the season. Rich Williamson also had a fine record of 4-4.

John Kline had the big stick with a season batting average of .413. Lashing out averages above .300 were Mitch Hanan, Steve Perkins, Jeff Nistler, and Gary Stockhoff. The RBIs were also led by John Kline and Gary Stockhoff. Once again on top, John Kline pounded out 31 hits. He was followed by Perkins with 29, Nistler with 25, and Stockhoff with 24. One of the season's highlights was the walloping the JVs dished out to Ashland, when they won by 24 runs.

Mark Lerfald outplays his Medford opponent in a tie breaker for the match.

Lerfald Sweep District Champs

On a balmy spring day, Steve Hilgart backhands a shot to protect his lead.

"We were victimized by the draw," sullenly remarked Coach Art Nolet in regard to both the state and district meets. At state the Indians' hope for a singles champ, Jim Wilson, was seeded sixth and consequently didn't place. Roseburg was seeded second to Ashland in district and came in second by a mere three points.

Other than district and state, a 15-1 record proved that they achieved another very successful season. Their only loss was to South Eugene, and it was by one point. Jim Wilson was district champion, not losing one match until state.

Mark Harden and Mark Lerfald perfected their teamwork and took the district doubles championship. Also seeded sixth, Harden and Lerfald were eliminated in the second round of state competition.

Pitted against number one rated Bob Metz of Jesuit in a match that should have been for the championship, Jim had a very even match, but he lost in a sudden-death play-off by a score of 6-4, 4-6, 6-7. Bob Metz easily defeated his next opponent for the state championship.

Packed with talent and determination, the netters came within 3 points of knocking off Medford for the District 6 title. In singles Roseburg dominated, with Helen Metzger claiming her second championship from singles of Medford 6-0, 6-0, and Lisa Mayenschien topping Jan Webster 3-6, 6-3, 6-1 for third and fourth places.

Superb play and determination jelled as Lynne Hoffman and Lisa Nuckolls upset Hibbs and Florey of Medford for the district doubles championship.

Struggling through the consolation bracket, Cindy Lander and Cindy Garland worked their way to first place and three more team points.

Seeded third for state competition, Metzger had no trouble dumping foes through the quarterfinals. The closest game in the quarterfinals was 6-3. However, semifinals action posed stiffer competition, and Metzger was defeated by state champion Lindsay Berman.

Both dropping the opening match, Mayenschien and Webster blossomed in the consolation bracket. Mayenschien advanced to the semifinals, but Webster was halted at the quarterfinals.

Surprising many people, Hoffman and Nuckolls were seeded number one. They didn't measure up to the standard, however, and were defeated in the second round to a St. Mary's team.

Cowbrough Bags District Reign

Coach Curt Jarvis led the golfers through another season, winning seven matches and placing third at district.

Low medalist at district with scores of 38-33, Scott Cowbrough failed to place in state contention.

Roseburg finished third at district by a slight margin of six strokes off the champion Medford team. Also, they lost a state bid as runner-up from District 6 by a narrow four stroke edge.

Randy Bell turned in a fine round, scoring a 78, but the overall team score was higher than normal.

During the Klamath Falls Meet, Rick Stritzke, bedridden with appendicitis, was lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

"We started slowly, but are coming along strong," commented Coach Doug Wilkerson. Early in the season the Indians placed fifth at the Rogue Relays, but in the Shakespearean Invitational at Ashland, Roseburg finished a close second.

Much illness had a bearing on the team's efforts. Mark Bailey was forced to drop out of state mile competition due to respiratory and sinus problems.

Although the Indians placed fourth at district, they had their share of champs. Mark Bailey won both the 880 and mile. Rick Russell won the discus and placed second in the shot put. Keith Wright placed a close second place in the discus. Ib Sorenson took sixth in the 220 and second place in the 440, with Paul Jackson working up to third place in the 440. John Rogers placed second in the mile.

With all these placings, Roseburg sent five people to compete in events at state — Rick Russell, Ib Sorenson, Keith Wright, John Rogers, and Mark Bailey. Mark Bailey won the 880 with a time of 1:55, beating second place by .4 of a second. Keith Wright cleared 6'3" for fourth place in the high jump. The state winner cleared 6'5", 1" below Wright's second placing at district meet.

Brundige Boasts Second Title

In her first year as girls' track coach, Mrs. Sanders' team set four new records, earned one state championship, and placed fourth in district.

Kay Jansen set a new school record in the discus, whirling it for 121'1". Other records set were: Desi Langlois' time of 17.2 in the 110-yard hurdles and Sandra Orr's 26.4 seconds for the 220. Superstar Debbie Brundige set the fourth record, running the mile in 5.14.55.

Placing second in the mile, Cindy Rogers also finished third in the 880 at districts. Four second places were awarded: Sandy Orr in the 220, the 880 Medley Relay, Kay Jansen in the discus, and Judy Loosley in the 880.

Adding another win to her list, Debbie Brundige claimed the state mile title. Sandy Orr and Cindy Rogers also placed at state. Orr placed fifth in the 220 and Rogers sixth in the 880 and mile.

ADMINISTRATION

Administrators, counselors, and secretaries — these are the behind-the-scene people of our school. And it is they who daily must meet the challenge of running this school efficiently and smoothly and yet still be flexible enough to change with the times.

Roseburg Gets New Superintendent

In his opening speech to the personnel of Roseburg Public Schools, Superintendent Murl Anderson presented himself for the scrutiny of the educators in Roseburg.

Dr. Anderson has a lot of ideas. He is for multi-year contracts for teachers, done by hooking teachers' salaries to the national salary index, thereby saving time in haggling over yearly salaries and saving yearly hassles between the board and teachers. He also favors the "open door policy" and welcomes people with problems.

Since Dr. Anderson wants to mix with people and be less desk-bound, he has taken a job that he says is not easy, but challenging, and possibly the most exciting he has ever had.

His hopes are that the people of Roseburg and he can honor, trust, and respect one another, and have effective communication.

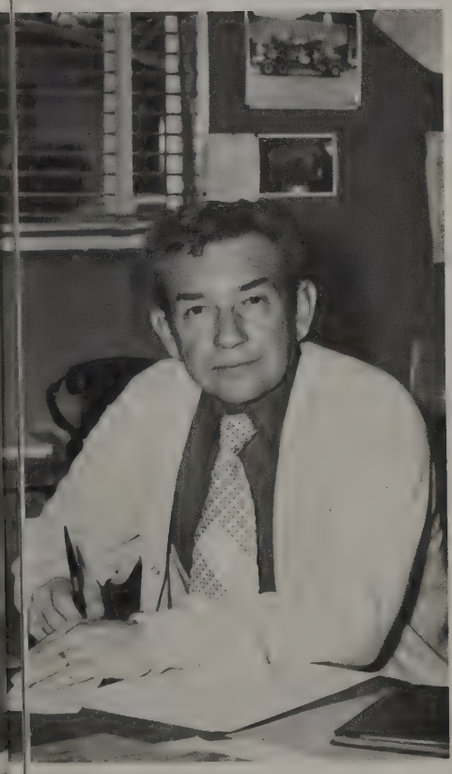
Aiding Dr. Anderson in his administrative responsibilities are Mr. Robert Keady, assistant superintendent, and Mr. Eldon Blanford, director of instruction and secondary curriculum.

One of the major decisions reached by the school board this year was to let married students take part in sports and hold positions of leadership in student affairs.

Dr. Anderson makes his message clear to all persons present in his first public address.

ADMINISTRATIVE AND SUPERVISORY STAFF for the 1973-1974 school year are as follows: Mr. Dick Bonebrake, Mr. Ray Dicks, Mr. Ken Speedie, Mr. Ron Singler, Mr. Roy Crain, Mr. Bob Colley, Mr. Joe Scallon, Mr. Cal Peterson, Mr. Larry Sconce, Mr. Bill Mehlhoff, Mr. Dennis Acton, Mr. Al Hoffman, Mrs. Florenc Felker, Mr. Gary Wilson, Mr. Bob Keady Mr. Dale Potts, Mr. Allen Ricketts.

Members of the 1973-1974 District Four School Board are Mr. Dale Lander, Mr. John McLaughlin, Mr. Don Kruse, Mr. Pat Janelli, Mrs. Carol Northam, Dr. Donald Jeppesen, Mr. William Duvall.



Mr. Keady looks up to argue for the adoption of a new social studies textbook.

Pausing reflectively, Mr. Blanford considers new graduation requirements.

Roseburg High Run By Colonel

Vice-principal Potts listens as a student asks about scholarship opportunities.

Mr. Thomas Cowan started the 1973-1974 school year, not at Roseburg High, but at National Guard Officers School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. It is an honor to be selected for the school, and upon his graduation in December, he had raised his rank in the National Guard to that of Colonel. In his absence, Mr. Dale Potts and Mr. Allen Ricketts shared his responsibilities along with keeping up with their own assignments.

Under the direction of Mr. Cowan and Mr. Potts, campus beautification was continued at the high school, with emphasis put on the outside this year. Before school started, the outside of the Main building was painted and new windows were put in the upstairs of the Main. During school, especially in the spring, grounds work took up much time. Because of this, noticeable improvement was made in the appearance of the lawns and flowerbeds around school.

One of Mr. Potts' most important responsibilities was keeping students informed on scholarship opportunities. He had to make sure that there was adequate publicity so the students who were interested in and qualified for certain scholarships could go to him for more information and the application forms.

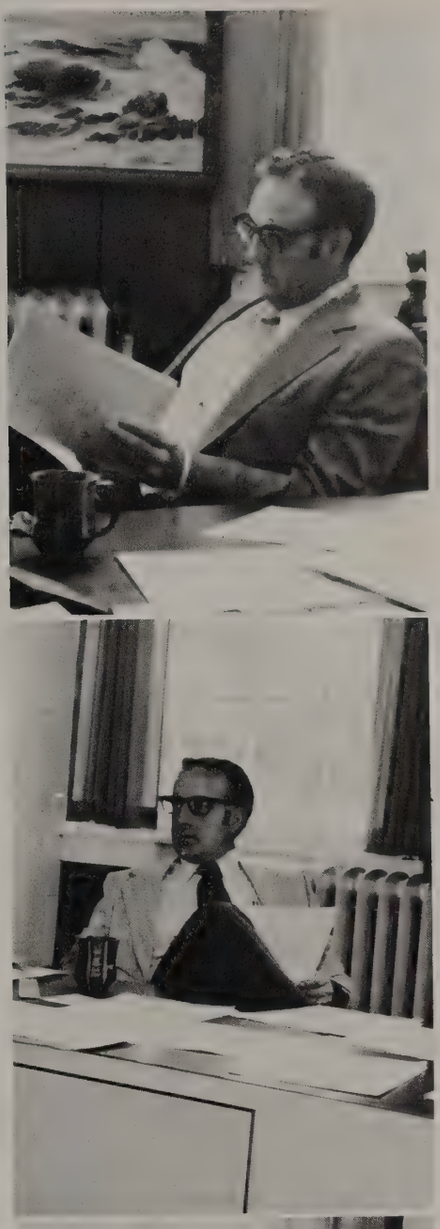
Another job of Mr. Potts' was the scheduling of next year's curriculum. So he could get an idea of what the students would like to have for courses, he went to them for suggestions.

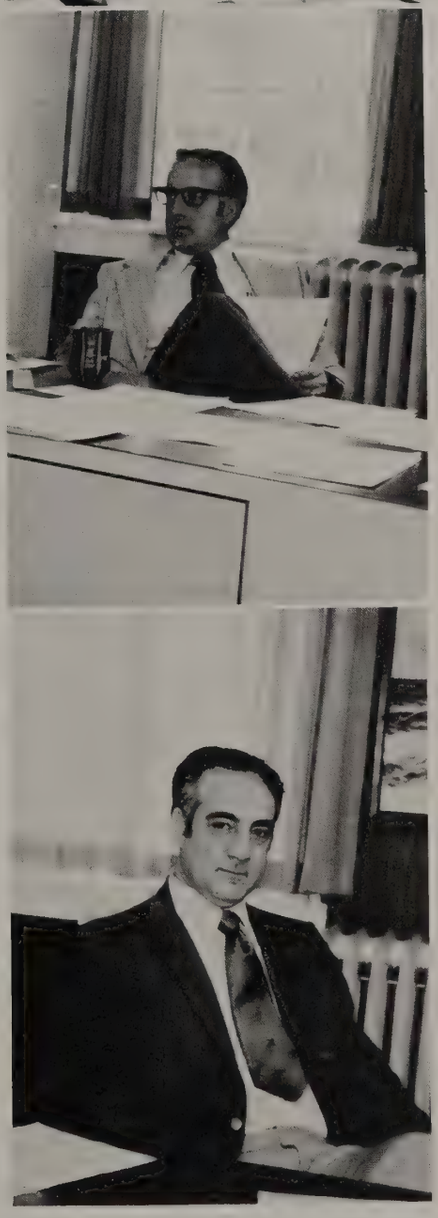
In the spring, Mr. Cowan was named new assistant superintendent, and Mr. Potts, after seven years at RHS, announced his move to Oregon City to become principal at that high school.

When his day starts with a handful of papers, Mr. Cowan knows he will be busy.

Absorbed in his reading, Mr. Cowan seems oblivious to Mr. Ricketts' presence.

Mr. Potts fields suggestions and ideas about the litter problem from the students.





After first reading and then discussing, Mr. Cowan has a moment to relax.

Counselors for the 1973-1974 school year are Mrs. Doolittle, Mr. Bell, Mrs. Fread, Mr. Rifenbark, Mrs. Helleck, and Mr. Welch. Mrs. Helleck retired as counselor to take the position of Child Development Supervisor for District 4.

Deans Help Students Find Jobs

When she asks Mr. Welch a question, Kristy Cramer is assured of a quick answer.

Dean of Girls Mrs. Phyllis Fread had many duties. Along with counseling senior girls, she found jobs for many of them. Mrs. Fread was also the advisor to Girls' League.

Mr. William Welch, Dean of Boys, also did much more than counsel. All seniors who wished to go to a college visitation signed up with him. He was in charge of assigning hall lockers, the issuing of parking stickers, and the enforcing of parking rules.

Also in the counseling department was Mr. Allen Ricketts, Director of Student Activities. He was in charge of scheduling the events calendar, coordinating counseling services, and renting school facilities. Teaching leadership class one period a day, advising student government, and controlling student discipline were also jobs of Mr. Ricketts.

Giving his time to a student when he is busy seems to appeal to Mr. Ricketts.

Keeping her files in order makes finding information easy for Mrs. Fread.

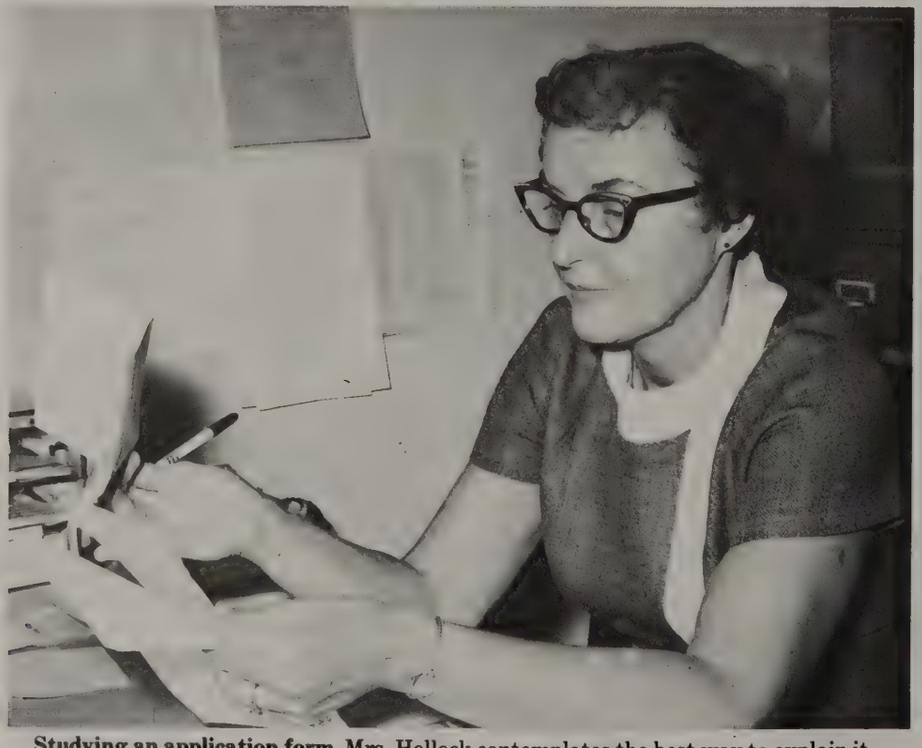
Keeping the counselors busy was but one of the challenges met by every student at Roseburg High School. Every sophomore was invited to visit a counselor to discuss his schedule and then asked in again to evaluate how he had done in his schoolwork. Each junior saw a counselor at least once for schedule adjustment and another time in regard to his plans for the future.

Along with the general counseling of every student, Sophomore Counselors Mr. Ray Rifenbark and Mrs. Sharon Doolittle and Junior Counselors Mr. Thurman Bell and Mrs. Louise Helleck were also involved in registration of new students, student check-outs due to illness, and the taking and checking of attendance. They counseled in the areas of college, scholarship, and marriage and family plans, too.

In addition, Mr. Rifenbark was in charge of work study, and Mrs. Doolittle took care of advising center aides during school and C-12 after school. Mrs. Helleck advised Candy Stripers, and Mr. Bell spent his after school hours as head football coach and assistant basketball coach.

Even though he is surrounded by paper work, Mr. Rifenbark finds something to smile about.

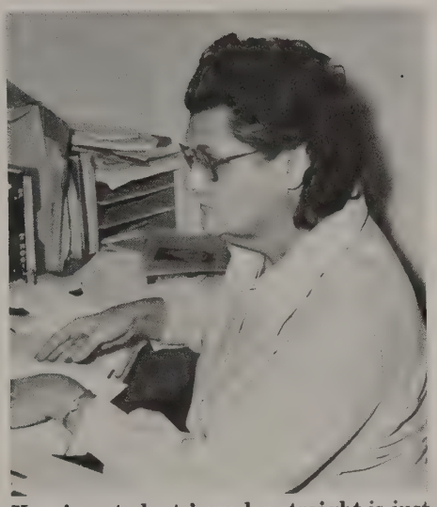


Studying an application form, Mrs. Helleck contemplates the best way to explain it.

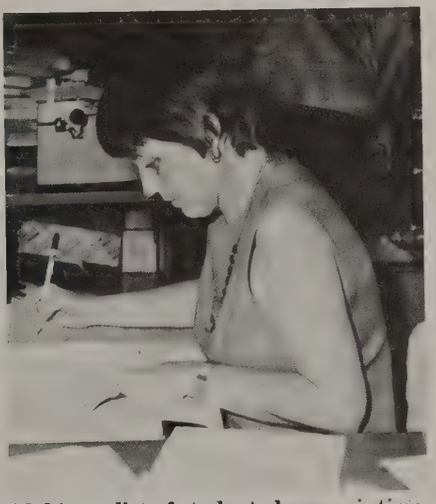
Pen in hand, Mrs. Doolittle prepares to request a student visitation.

Show Way For High School Career

"Are you sure this is the reason he was absent?" asks Mr. Bell of Mr. Rifenbark.



Keeping students' grades straight is just one of Mrs. Holland's duties.



Making a list of student absences is time-consuming for Mrs. Moreno.

Data processor Mrs. Meredith takes time to answer a student's question.

Secretaries Offer Efficiency

Providing efficient service to the students, faculty, administration, and visitors to the campus was one job of the secretaries. There were two secretaries in the main office, one bookkeeper, one librarian, and one bookkeeper-librarian's assistant.

Head secretary Mrs. Margie Medford was kept very busy being Mr. Cowan's personal secretary and also training the office aides.

Mrs. Judy Small was in charge of typing daily bulletins, ringing bells on special schedules, and answering phone and desk calls.

Bookkeeper Mrs. Sharon Hall kept all school accounts and financial matters in order and supervisied students who worked in the business office.

Mrs. Vicki Knoll, assisted by Mrs. Darlene Long, made sure the book supply was up to date.

Custodians Renovate Campus

Truell Scott finds raking leaves an enjoyment when it is done in the sun.

Head custodian Jess Kingry uses one of his keys to unlock another door.

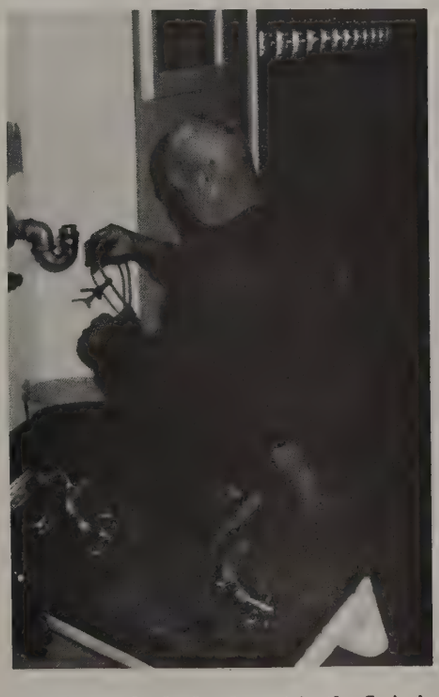
Custodians are a vital part of life at Roseburg High. Before school starts, the custodians provide a clean and neat atmosphere for the students by cleaning and waxing all the floors, washing windows, and painting walls.

During the school year, custodians clean blackboards, floors, and walkways left messy by unthinking students. They are also on hand in emergency situations and always have a bucket ready for the ever-leaking roof in the L.A. building.

This year, a welcome improvement came to the grounds at Roseburg High. With the addition of Ron Ruzzament, additional flowers were planted, the shrubs already growing around the school were pruned, and the grass became as neat as a golf green. The constant care of the grounds was the major reason for the drastic improvement of all-around looks of the campus.

Serving under head custodian Jesse Kingry were John Anderson, Waren Barth, Cecil Davidson, Milburn Johnson, Neal Kingry, Roscoe Mathis, Helen Niday, Kathryn Piper, Kenneth Piper, Ron Ruzzament, and Buster Taylor.

With spring comes growing grass and Neal Kingry along behind to mow it.



Repairing the leaky faucet in the L.A. is the responsibility of Barney Shaw.

Custodian Ron Ruzzament takes care in spreading bark mulch around the flowers.

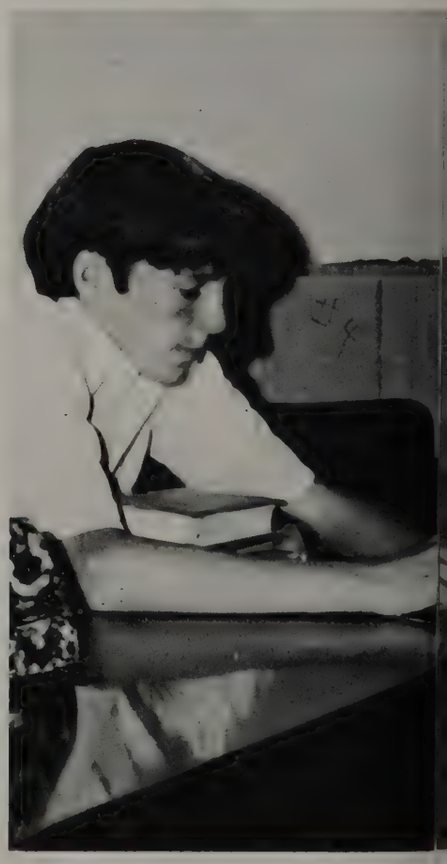
Leadership Class Helps To

Student council undertook many jobs this year, revising the constitution, drawing up the school budget, keeping up the current events board, and scheduling homecoming activities.

Pat Foutz, ASB President, headed the committee formed to name the gym, opened assemblies, budgeted school money, organized school money, and organized school fund drives. He was ably assisted by ASB Vice-President Bruce Glover, who was homecoming chairman and led Senate meetings.

House of Representatives meetings were conducted by Speaker of the House Kelly Coughlin. Each home room was represented by one student who attended the house meetings and then reported back to his class on what was happening in the school. The House also picked a club of the quarter for a certain service to the school or community.

Concentrating on his assignment, Dave Driver has no time to let his mind wander.

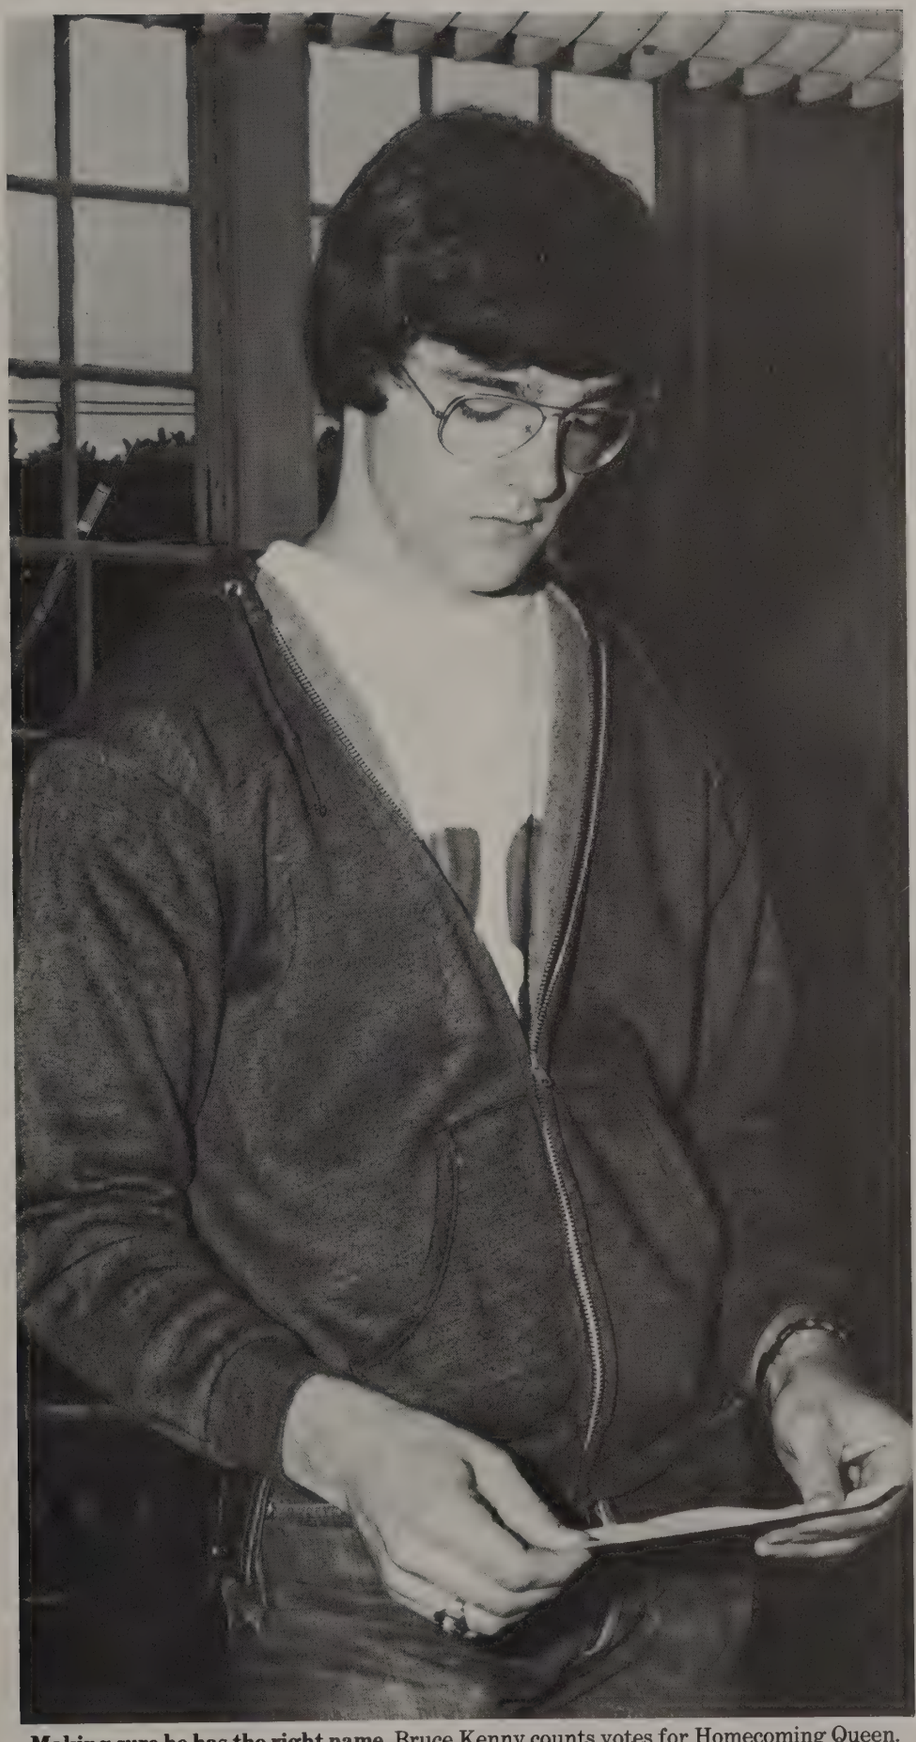


Typing a letter is a job of importance for State Girls League President Angie Gaines.

Clean Up School Grounds

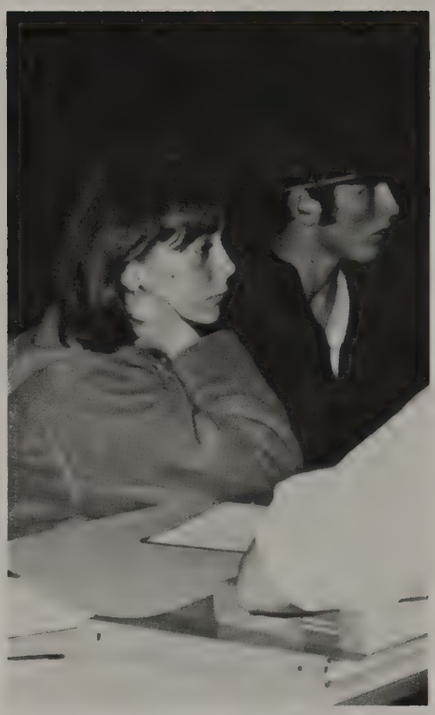
ASB President Pat Foutz is at ease introducing the secretarial candidates.

Kelly Coughlin and Gail Oberst quietly listen to Mr. Ricketts' message.

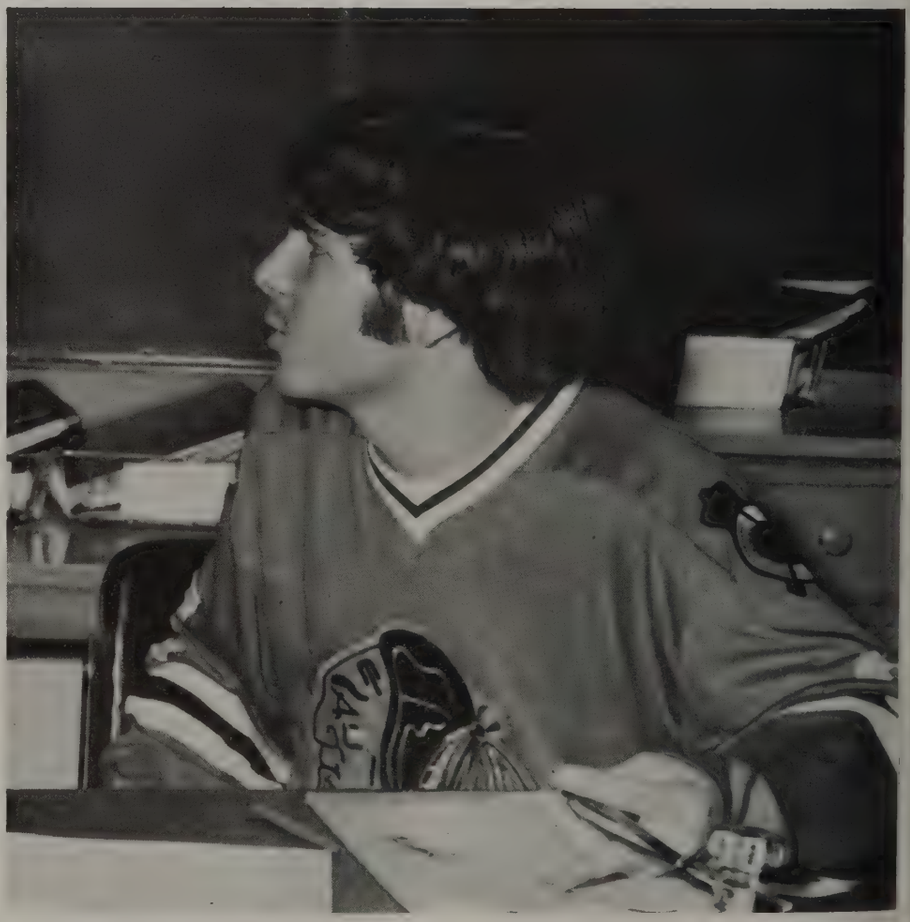


Making sure he has the right name, Bruce Kenny counts votes for Homecoming Queen.

Jim Sanders reaches out to adjust the letters on the current events board.

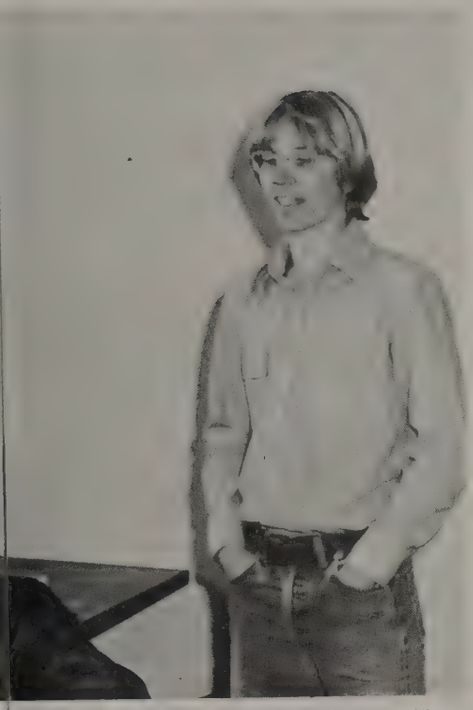


In a House meeting, Jan Webster and Bruce Carne listen to the new tardy policy.



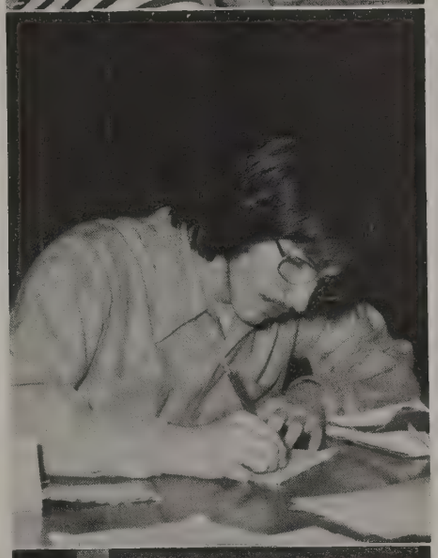
"Are you serious?" asks Bruce Glover of a senator, who spoke without thinking.

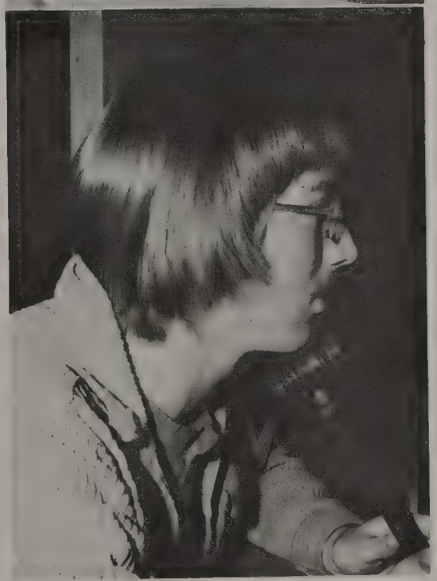
Leadership Helps Rename Gym



Gail Oberst and Brad DeCamp add to leadership discussion in their own way.

Directing another leadership discussion is Mr. Ricketts, advisor to the class.





Checking dates with Mr. Ricketts and writing notes precede Pat Foutz' meeting.

One of the highlights of this year's leadership class was the renaming of the high school gym. This was done by sponsoring a contest in which anyone in the community who thought of a name could submit it. When the deadline was reached, leadership class selected three names to submit to the school board for approval. The previously un-named Roseburg gym was then named Kiva Court. Winner of the contest was Todd Adams, who won a twenty-five dollar savings bond and season's tickets to next year's basketball games.

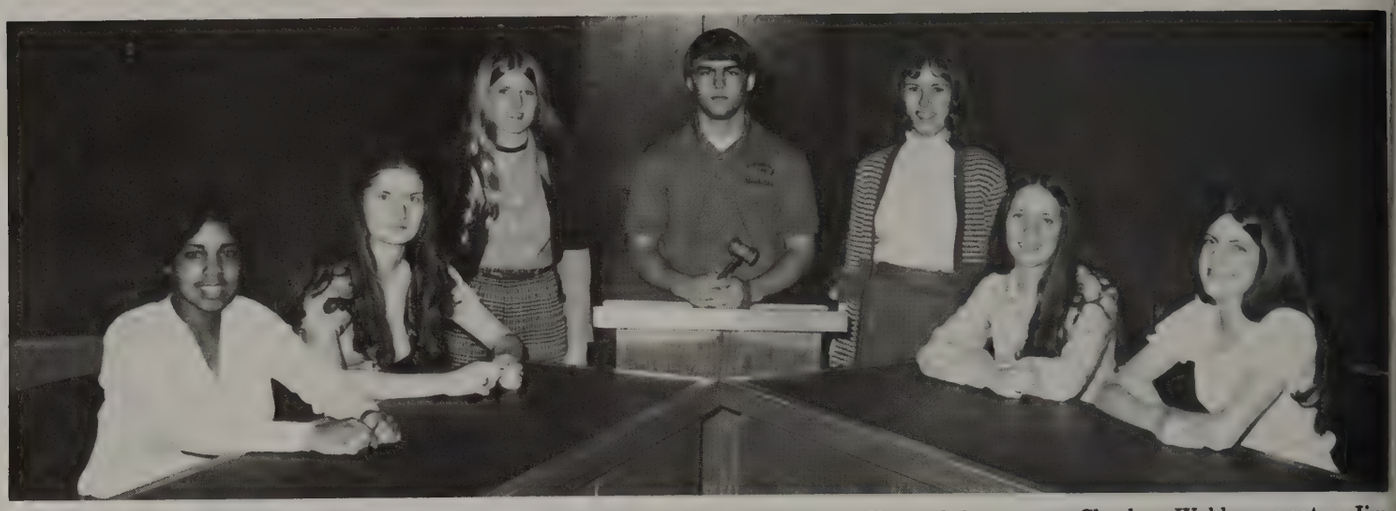
Seniors Urge Conservation Measure



The individuals presiding over the senior class this year were Angela Gaines, senator; Karen Cole, senator; Charlene Webber, senator; Jim Sanders, president; Barb Ford, vice president; Lori Dyck, secretary; and Shelley Walls, treasurer.

This year Roseburg High had one of its largest graduating classes. About 450 seniors received their diplomas at Commencement activities Sunday, June 2, on Finlay Field.

Throughout the year the class participated in a variety of activities. In the fall, seniors won Homecoming sign competition with artwork, encouraging later classes to, "Save a tree — make small homecoming signs." The annual canned food drive saw the class in second place with 395 cans of food. Through their modern problems class, students established a Student Beneficiary Fund to buy stock which would be sold in ten years with proceeds going to a member of the class of 1984 as a scholarship. Thanks to student donations, the class was able to purchase six shares of Scott Fitzer stock.

Boasting one of the most prestigious academic records in RHS' history, the class of '74 had eight students qualifying as valedictorians and six as salutatorians. The students received a total of $56,500 in scholarships this year from schools as geographically separated as Willamette and Yale universities.

First place winner for flutes at the State Solo Contest in April, senior Debra Hausott practices to further perfect the skill which won her the coveted position.

I really was waiting to get gas, sir!" exclaims senior Dana Barnes, one of the many students who were late to class this year due to the gas crisis.

Thanks to her borrowed finery, Linda Scallon can find a smile on even the coldest day.

Kelly Coughlin and Pat Foutz discuss election ethics with voters Kevin Babbitt, Junia Caley, and Tim King.

Juniors Stage '74 Prom In "S.F."

Chosen to speak for the junior class in the student council this year are Mike Pommerane, vice president; Joni Munion, treasurer; Dave Driver, president; Sherrill Beck, senator; Betty Robins, senator; Lorelei Hilgart, senator; and Kim Lanier, secretary.

By now well adjusted to the high school routine, the junior class delved immediately into a variety of activities. In order to earn money to pay for the prom, which the junior class sponsors, they ran a concession at the football games. During this season, interested juniors also took their preliminary SAT tests. At Christmas, the middlemen were first place in the annual canned food drive, bringing in 526 cans of food.

This spring a major part of many juniors' lives was the prom. Decorations were centered around the theme, "San Francisco Dreaming," Scenery was complete with Chinatown, Ghirardelli Square, and the Golden Gate bridge.

In late spring juniors ran for ASB offices. The last service performed by the class of '75 was at the graduation exercises, where several junior boys acted as ushers.

A number of changes will face the class when it returns in the fall, including a seven-period day, a new shop building, a wider choice of classes, and an all-weather track.

Participating in a contest sponsored by the physics class, Darrell Hand places an egg in the container which he hopes will protect his egg in its 24-foot fall.

Boosting the spirit of the class of '75 are rally members Kelly Bauer, Sue Berggreen, Jean Matthews, Cindy Keller (sitting), Margie Conkey, and Karen Coen.

Sophomores Adjust To RHS Life

Those representing the sophomore class this year are Jan Nordling, senator; Nancy Roots, treasurer; Teresa Davidson, senator; Brad DeCamp, president; Dana Campbell, vice president; Pam Wagner, secretary; and Lori Bacon, senator (not shown).

Once again the sophomore class showed superiority — in numbers — at RHS. The class had a busy fall: Holding elections for class officers, having rally tryouts, and adjusting to a new and larger campus.

Every underclassman was required to take the National Education Development Tests in late autumn. These allow a general comparison of students' academic progress across the United States.

By the middle of the year the sophomores were participating in a wide range of activities. At Christmas they attempted to stimulate interest in the canned food drive, but were able to collect only one can. Undefeated by this, they ran a concession at the basketball games under the guidance of their advisors.

Among the traditional services performed by the class was serving at and cleaning up after the Junior-Senior Prom. They also cleaned the grandstands in preparation for the graduation ceremonies.

Hiding under an umbrella for protection from the blazing afternoon sun, inventive sophomore Dave Breithaupt helps run the sound system at the graduation exercises.

Doing her presentation of Girl of the Month, sophomore Nancy Coughlin gets her first opportunity to perform her duties as Girls' League's newly-elected Marshal.

Rally members cheering on the sophomore class are Rosy Beamer, Gail LaGrander, Tammy Sanders, Amy Monteith, Desi Langlois, and Jody Matthews.

The Challenge Met

The end of the school year — 1974. For some it means graduation and the end of all formal schooling. For others it brings only a time to set aside the books and take a brief vacation until next fall. But for almost everybody it signifies the completion of another year of life, a year of successful working and surviving within the system. Truly a challenge met.

For us, the staff of the '74 Umpqua, the challenge met is the completion of this book. Many long hard hours were devoted to produce what we think is the most accurate and comprehensive yearbook ever at RHS.

But we never would have met this challenge without the help of three very special people. First, there is Mike Houser our loyal representative from Taylor Publishing Co. who was always helpful and encouraging on the financial matters of this edition. Second are Bill Willis and his faithful staff at Douglas Portraits. A lesser group of people surely would not have produced such excellent photography on what was usually very short notice. And last but definitely not least is our advisor, Mr. Bodeen. Nobody else could ever have shown so much patience and understanding while we worked away at ridiculous hours down in the old annual room, striving at one major goal — to give the school a book they will be proud of. Our debt to him can never be repaid.
